

Night time

(simile poem)

Night is as realistic as our nightmares,
Bringing out the darkness all vivid and real,
Making the quiet call for fear.

The stars float in the sky like a balloon drifting slowly,
They bring out a wisp of light,
slowly conquering the darkness.

The breeze is gentle, it cuts the air like a knife
through butter,
The tinge brings shivers down your spine,
Causing goosebumps to scatter across your skin.

By Abbey Tisdell

AFL

Players Fatigued

Blood dripping down the ruckman

Final siren sounds

By Baxter Wallet

CARS are like...

GTR is like a lion, fast and loud
Ferrari is like a cheetah, fast and elegant Lamborghini is like a bull, revving loudly and speeding through the streets
Holden is like a dumpster being pushed down a hill stopping and braking
Fords are like a horse zooming down the road
Maserati's are like a lions and tigers fighting
BMW's are like a person that is always loud Volvos are like a Holden but not breaking down as often Jeeps are like a 4x4 for the army
Mercedes are like a bird flying smoothly

By Brandyn Thornber

The Feathers

I notice his grey feathers
the night of the fire.
They were a dark grey,
Dove grey I would call it.
Nice feathers,
He chose that moment
to remember
how to retract his wings
And fly away
It's like he hates me
He comes back and
stares with a cruel face
I start to walk away
Leave me alone
Just leave me alone

By Grace Pedler

Wind

Building slowly, working it's way across the field

Winding its way to the woods

Fluttering through the trees

The birds take cover, burrowing deep in their homes

Now building quicker, faster and faster

The trees bend and sway like it is being forced to the ground

Howling with great force

Moving out to the wider space of the ocean

Now gale force, ferocious and dangerous

Growling through the water

Tossing the boats about

When will it settle

Slowing down, gentler now

Finding its peace

Softly, quiet and calming

Whistling breeze, bringing the journey to an end.

Jake Hockley

Giraffes

Giraffes

are very

tall

Giraffes, are yellowish with brown spots,

Giraffes, they are the earth's tallest mammal,

Giraffes, their legs are taller than most humans

They

can

Run

as

Fast

as

35

miles

An

hour

By Jordan Freeman

Light and Dark

As darkness prevails through the skies,

Light tries to fight it's way through,

The gun shots fly through the air,

Cars speeding creating sonic boom destroying glass,

Nothing will stand in darknesses way until light shows,

Light will destroy darkness and yet again save the day.

Liam Irvine