

Make a world of difference this Christmas!

This Christmas, the Lasallian Youth Ministry in Pakistan will again distribute hampers to the families of the predominantly Christian brick kiln workers who live in abject conditions. The workers don't have guaranteed jobs – they are 'day labourers' – and face ongoing financial and food insecurity. Their homes are characterised by poverty and despair, and the hampers distributed by the Lasallian Youth bring joy and hope to the families of the kiln workers at Christmas time.

Besides the financial support of donors in Australia and New Zealand, the Christmas outreach is also financially supported by parents and students attending Lasallian schools in Pakistan. The hampers contain packets of rice and flour in addition to small gifts for the children and some confectionery.

The aim is to raise over $3,000 to assist the Pakistani Lasallian youth with its outreach, so every donation, large or small, will help the Lasallian Foundation achieve this goal.
