Joke for the fortnight

I studied a long time to become a doctor, but I didn't have any patients.

Thought for the fortnight

Knowledge decides what to say

Skill decides how to say it

Attitude decides how much to say

Wisdom decides whether to say it or not ... Unknown source

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

2025 School Leavers' Guide to Jobs and Training - Career Options and Information

The Department of Employment, Small Business and Training have put together the 2025 School Leavers' Guide to jobs and training - Career options and information. It provides information and resources to school leavers, senior students and parents. Vocational education and training (VET) can provide you with strong pathways to your desired career/job, give you skills employers value and may also be an excellent pathway into higher education including university. The Guide contains resources to assist you in considering how VET can help you to reach your career goals. In the Guide you will find information on:

- Tools and resources to explore career options
- Vocational training and further study
- Subsidised training and incentives
- Industry specific career exploration
- Assistance with finding a job
- Gain on the job experience
- Mental and physical wellbeing support for young people
- Preparing for work

Australian Apprenticeships offer a world of opportunities

There are more than 500 occupations across Australia that offer apprenticeships. Most sectors of business and industry offer apprenticeships at various certificate levels from traditional trade to emerging occupations. With an Australian Apprenticeship, you can earn a wage while completing a nationally recognised qualification. It's a great way to get a head start in your chosen occupation. Australian Apprenticeships are based on competency. You can finish your apprenticeship early if you reach the required skill level. You can also qualify for more advanced training after completing an apprenticeship. Click here to read more about finding an apprenticeship that suits you and how to Improve your chances of gaining one.

Electrical Group Training (EGT)

Electro-training is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO Number: 31673) delivering nationally recognised Solar, Refrigeration and Electrical training. As a Construction Skills Queensland (CSQ) registered training supplier, they provide training supported by CSQ funding offering regular classes in Townsville and Brisbane and on demand courses in Cairns. Check out Electro-training here. They may be a good fit for you.

Group Training Organisations

Registering with a Group Training Organisation (GTO) is one strategy to try when looking for an apprenticeship. GTOs employ apprentices and trainees and place them with a host employer until the apprenticeship or traineeship has been completed. Click here for more information about GTOs and visit the National Employment Network website to find a GTO near you.

Wanting to become an apprentice or trainee?

TAFE offer apprentices and trainees, off the job learning at many of their campuses. You can learn through hands on activities using the same equipment and tools used in industry. They combine working for an employer and studying at TAFE Queensland and you graduate with a nationally recognised qualification. Click here to read more about:

- The difference between apprenticeships and traineeships
- Trades training areas (21 in all)
- Becoming an apprentice or trainee - a four step process
- Finding an employer
- Payment and funding options
- Women in trades

What is a school-based apprenticeship or traineeship?

School-based apprentices and trainees, usually in Years 10, 11 and 12, are trained in their chosen apprenticeship or traineeship, in the workplace and through a training organization, while continuing to study towards their Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE) at school. To commence a school-based apprenticeship or traineeship (SAT), a student must have the support of the employer, the school, a supervising registered training organisation and their parent/guardian. The Department of Employment, Small Business and Training have put together a fact sheet which tells you about:

- Advantages of school-based apprenticeships and traineeships
 - More flexibility and variety
 - Head start in a career
 - Nationally recognised qualifications
 - An opportunity to learn and earn
 - Contribution to the community
 - Employer satisfaction
- How SATs work
 - School/finishing school
 - Work
 - Training

Click here to find out more about SATs and whether they are an option for you and also speak with your school career counsellor or VET coordinator.

Why become a tradie

Australia's construction industry is booming and qualified carpenters are in high demand. But without formal qualifications, you might be missing out on better pay, more jobs and higher job security. A formal qualification doesn't just validate your skills, it opens doors to bigger and better projects. A nationally recognised carpentry qualification is what employers are looking for. It's a must if you want to work on major construction sites or start your own carpentry business. Click here to read what Qualify Me! a Registered Training Organisation says about why become a tradie:

1. Job Security
2. No Uni Education Needed
3. Work Flexibility
4. Say no to the office cubicle
5. Wages
6. Travel
7. Satisfaction

Career Exploration

20 most in-demand occupations across Australia and 10 are STEM jobs

If you're in the process of choosing a career direction, it makes sense to check the latest high-demand professions. SEEK just released its top 20 most in-demand occupations across Australia. Guess what? Ten of them are STEM-focused opportunities. Click here to find out which jobs are in demand ... Hint: Construction is booming!

Australian Occupations

'Occupation' is the name we give to the type of work a person does. For example, a doctor, mechanic, project manager, physiotherapist or cabinet maker. You'll probably work in a number of different occupations over the course of your working life. The good news? Many of the skills and abilities developed working in one occupation are directly transferable and applicable to others. Click here to find JobJumpstart's information about:

- So what's the difference between an occupation and an industry?
- Tools can help you
- Occupations can be in many different industries

Career snapshot: Psychology

Psychologists assess and work with clients to support them to gain and maintain optimal mental, social and occupational health. They use a variety of treatments to ensure people can function effectively in society. Below are five reasons why you may wish to consider a career in the field of psychology:

1. You can help people
2. Flexible working conditions
3. Strong employment projections
4. It's challenging
5. It can take you anywhere

Does a course with a high ATAR guarantee better job prospects?

The Good Universities Guide has found that students tend to choose courses with the highest ATAR entry requirement they can. They believe that the higher the ATAR, the better the course and the better the employment outcome. If you're a high-achieving student, you may be considering a course that has a high ATAR minimum threshold score. It's important to note that the ATAR minimum threshold for courses is an indication of the popularity of a course, it doesn't necessarily reflect how good your options will be once you graduate. When looking at graduate outcomes, such as employment rate or a high starting salary, the courses with high ATAR requirements don't necessarily deliver the best outcomes — well, not straight away. Click here to find out more.

Explore careers by industry

Seek has a section on their website that looks at careers by 'industry'. If you scroll down the page, you will find the heading Browse careers by industry. Click on the industries that interest you and you will find a list of jobs that you might want to find out more about.

Do you have what employers are looking for?

JobJumpstart reports that the Australian Government surveyed more than 3000 Australian employers to find out what advice they would give to young people looking for a job. Employers said they look for:

- a positive attitude
- motivation and enthusiasm
- someone who is prepared to learn and take direction.

They also said that applicants need to:

- be punctual and dependable
- be respectful to colleagues and customers
- show a commitment to staying in the job for an acceptable period of time.

Employers also mentioned that some young people have unrealistic expectations of work, including:

- being unprepared for the demands of the workplace
- the level of pay they would receive
- wanting to start at the top instead of working their way up.

Give yourself a rating so you can keep up the good work and/or work on the areas where you can improve and be job ready!

How are applicants selected for courses through QTAC?

Many courses you apply for through QTAC for study in 2026 are competitive. Consequently, many institutions use specific selection criteria when selecting successful applicants. Once institution admission rules are met (i.e. English Language Proficiency – automatic for most domestic students; age requirements – generally 18 years or completion of Year 12) selection is based on:

- meeting minimum entry requirements for the course (this may include subject prerequisites (usually General subjects), a portfolio; an interview or audition; a specific test, an essay or questionnaire; the successful completion of a course etc), and
- merit (ATAR or a QTAC Selection Rank).

Through the QTAC process, eligible applicants (i.e. those who meet the entry requirements) are considered in order of merit (i.e. ATAR or QTAC Selection Rank). The ATAR or Rank of the last person to get into the course before all places are filled becomes the lowest ATAR/Selection Rank to receive an offer (called minimum selection threshold), for that course, in that offer round. In the 2026 QTAC Guide, website and university websites, it is referred to as the LSR (Lowest Selection Rank) offered Semester 1, 2025 (you should refer to adjusted LSR). The courses' minimum thresholds can move up or down each year due to annual demand and the previous year's minimum thresholds are used as a guide only.

Opening of QTAC Admission 2026

Year 12 students can start their 2026 QTAC Application from 5 August by registering for their ATAR in the ATAR Portal and QTAC Applications through the QTAC Application Portal. You MUST register using your personal email address, not a school one!

Some important points:

- A QTAC application costs $70 before 30 September 2025 and $150 on or after 1 October 2025.
- You need to pay for your application before it is accepted.
- The only payment methods are MasterCard or VISA, BECS direct debit and EFTPOS (debit card).
- If paying with a Debit card, you will need to pay by 25 September so that the money can arrive in the QTAC bank account before 30 September.
- If you are having difficulty paying for your QTAC application or you can only pay with cash, you should see your guidance officer/counsellor to make other arrangements.
- Be sure to print your payment receipt so you have evidence of payment and to be sure you have successfully lodged your application.

Click here for more information. Registering to get your ATAR is free.

QTAC Applications

From 5 August 2025, you can apply through QTAC to one or more of 17 Queensland and Northern New South Wales tertiary Institutions. Remind Me

QTAC Remind Me is run by QTAC that enables students preparing to study and their parents, guardians and teachers, to opt-in to receive timely reminders regarding ATAR release, application reminders, upcoming key dates and important admissions information. Subscribers of Remind Me benefit from receiving reminders via both SMS and email, beginning in mid-July and finishing in February, with a break in between for Year 12 students during the block-out period for exams. Click here to sign up and go in the draw to win prizes such as Google Nests, Beats Headphones and more.

The difference between QCE and ATAR

QTAC states that the Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE) and the ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admission Rank) are different and have different purposes:

- QCE certifies learning, ie shows a student's academic achievement and at what standard they achieved in each subject during their senior schooling. The QCE may be considered by employers and the general community.
- ATAR indicates a student's position (or ranking) compared to all other students in the state. The only intended purpose for the ATAR is to assist with selecting applicants for tertiary study.

For more information about QCE contact Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) and for ATAR information contact QTAC.

My QCE Student Portal registration

If you are in Year 12 the myQCE Student Portal is where you will find all your learning information, subjects studied, results, VET certificates etc. You can check your personal details, access your learning account, get your final Year 12 results and more. You will need to register before you leave school and it's best to do it sooner than be rushed at the end of the year. You will need your full name as recorded in your school enrolment (no nick names or shortened names) and your LUI number which you can get from your school.

Year 10 - Planning your senior pathway

If you are in Year 10, your school will be asking you to put together your Senior Education and Training Plan (SETP) soon. Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) suggests that a SETP will help you to:

- think about your education, training and career goals after Year 12
- structure your learning in Years 11 and 12 around your abilities, interests and ambitions
- decide which learning options you should choose to achieve your learning, further education and training and career goals
- map your pathway to a Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE)

The QCAA has valuable information that will assist you in developing your SETP. Click here to find:

Study Skills and Wellbeing

A positive study mindset is essential

When you know that you have to sit down and do some study, what thoughts go through your head?

- I hate this and don't want to do it OR If I'm going to pass, I will need to get it done
- I have better things I'd rather be doing OR I'd rather be doing something else but if I get started, I'll get it finished
- I have no idea what I'm supposed to be doing OR I'll start with a plan for the session, so I don't waste time
- I'll never get this done OR If I get it started at least, it's a step in the right direction
- Everyone else finds this easy OR If I focus on what I'm reading, I'll have a better chance of understanding it
- I have too much to do and not enough time OR It's a hectic time of the term so just focus on one thing at a time

These are just some of the thoughts that might go through our mind when it comes to study but you get the idea I'm sure. Success and happiness in anything you do is all about how we think/talk to ourselves :)

Future students with a disability or health condition

If you are a future student with a disability or health condition or a parent/carer, Griffith Uni encourage you to talk to their Student Disability and Accessibility team about what supports you may need while at university. Click here to find out how you can talk to them about:

- making an application
- preparing documentation
- reasonable adjustments
- transitioning to university
- resources for parents

Upgrading via university studies

If you don't achieve the selection rank needed to secure a place in your preferred degree, you could start studies in an alternative degree to improve your rank. Once you achieve the selection rank required, you can then reapply or transfer to your preferred degree. Successful completion of two or more bachelor-level courses (subjects) in a degree program can provide you with a new selection rank. Selection ranks based on university study depend on how many courses you complete and your overall Grade Point Average achieved (GPA). Click here to see a table guide:

Year 12 subject adjustment scheme

Subject adjustments can boost your selection rank and improve your chances of securing a place at Griffith. You are eligible to receive adjustments for subjects and university courses that you successfully complete in high school that require a high level of skill and knowledge. Adjustment factors will be automatically applied to your ATAR when you apply for eligible Griffith University preferences through QTAC for the year following the completion of your Year 12 studies (Trimester 1, 2 or 3 eligible preferences). Click here to find a list of QCE and International Baccalaureate Diploma subjects.
