UNIVERSAL

With our History edition all wrapped up, our Universal team is working on Music, as the next edition theme!

Universal is an amazing creative outlet for our young people, where they are given the opportunity to show off their talent in writing, drawing, designing and everything in between. Our Music edition will allow readers to discover new songs and artists, as well as hear about life backstage at school musicals.

ASPENDALE YOUTH COVE

We know how much our young people love cooking and coming together so we have developed our very own online cooking sessions.

Each week cooking boxes with a recipe card and core ingredients will be home delivered to participants in time for them to join the Aspendale Youth Cove (AYC) staff online to cook together and hang out.

To join these sessions, you must be 11-17 years old with a connection to the City of Kingston and complete an Expression of Interest form at kingstonyouth.org.au/ayc-aspendale-youth-cove

CONNECT

Transitioning into adulthood as a queer young person can be overwhelming and opportunities to meet like-minded people can feel few and far between. Connect supports LGBTIQA+ young people to network with other members of the Rainbow Community within the City of Kingston.

Dedicated and passionate youth workers work together with members to plan and organise sessions that are centered around discussions designed to increase greater understanding of LGBTIQA+ themes and topics, creating or seeking out advocacy opportunities and of course networking with the greater community. Group is currently held online.
