

Paragraph 2: Main idea :

T: A good sports coach is a good encourager and is a motivation to his/her athletes.

E: Explain why I think this (the benefits of having a good encourager/motivational coach)

E: Use Nathan my old soccer coach as an example, like when I was 5 and he encouraged me to play the sport of soccer for another nine years.

L: Yes, a sports coach must be a good encourager/motivational speaker to be classified a good coach but nothing of what I just talked about would even matter if the sports coach didn't have a basic understanding of the sport he/she is coaching.

Paragraph 3: Main Idea:

T: The best sports coaches I have ever encountered are the ones that have a really good understanding of the sport and they know how to share and portray their knowledge onto the team.

E: Explain why I think this (the benefits of having a coach that has a basic or in depth understanding of the sport).

E: Use Cameron (Cam) as an example of why it was so beneficial to have a coach like him that understood the game of soccer in a way that none of my other coaches did or could, and explain why it was so beneficial that he could portray his knowledge off to me and more importantly the team.

L: Having a good understanding of the sport is one of the most important attributes to have as a good sports coach, but it also helps if the sports coach can portray that knowledge using good leadership skills and traits.

Paragraph 4: Main idea:

T: The best sports coaches are the ones that use all of the abilities I have already talked about but also to be able be the leader of the team and to guide them to success.

E: Explain why I think this (the benefits of having a coach that has good leadership skills and traits).

Paragraph 1: Introduction Topic:

In my opinion and from my personal experience every good sports coach should most definitely have all of the following characteristics: a good sports coach must be a good encourager/motivator, a good sports coach must have a really good understanding (if he is coaching a higher level) if not then just a basic understanding of the sport and finally a good sports coach must have really good leadership skills and traits.

Paragraph 5: Conclusion:

Re-state every topic you have already said (re-phrase the introduction).

Ex. In conclusion I think that being a good sports coach but portray the attributes of...

The best sports coaches are the ones that have all the skills I have talked about...

E: Use Jim as to why the best sports coaches have to be able to portray their knowledge in order to guide the team to success or even just a happy team that enjoys playing the game in general.

L: Being a leader is very important to lead the team to success and the players overall enjoyment but its when the sports coach has all of the attributes I have talked about today that is when you know that person is a good sports coach.
