

The Magical World of Mayhem

By Olivia, MBW

Sophie lives in a rundown, rusty house made of wood. The street she lives on sounds like a mouse looking for cheese. The only thing she can hear is the loud crows that glide through the sky. Sophie lives with her parents Jassy and Rob. Because they live in an abandoned area, they don't have jobs. They are extremely poor. Sophie sleeps in an attic surrounded by boxes, spider webs and one circle window. It is so dark in the attic that she feels like she is in a cave and at any moment a bear will just show up. Every morning her eyes are caught on an ordinary mirror. Sophie desperately wants to touch the mirror but her mum and dad know the story behind the mirror. They always tell her "NO!!" when she asks to touch the mirror. Sophie is determined to find out why her parents won't let her touch the mirror. She makes a very important decision to touch the mirror. Suddenly a gust of wind swirled around Sophie, and a tornado formed. She was as scared as a bird getting chased by a human. In a split-second Sophie disappeared into thin air.

" Help!" Sophie screamed as loud as a lion. Before she knew it Sophie was in a whole new world. " Wow this is amazing!" Sophie was surrounded by modern houses she had never seen before. " Welcome to Modernville where it is all about modern houses." A yellow bird came up to Sophie and started talking. " Wait, who are you and how are you speaking?" Sophie asked, feeling petrified. She paused in shock because everyone could speak, even animals and robots. "We can read your mind. You will be our prisoner. You will make a tasty dinner!!!" A herd of metal robots said. They scared Sophie and she ran away.

"I need to get out of here. This place does look great but the robots want to eat me and put me in jail!", Sophie thought to herself. Sophie only had one idea. If she came into the dark old mirror she could get out of this colourful world." "Hello bird I am sorry I ran away but one quick question... HOW DID I GET HERE!!!!?" Sophie asked. She hated this world that she got sucked into and she wanted to go back to her abandoned old home in the middle of nowhere.

"I am sorry but things that come in can only get out by Axillina the ice cream shop owner. But we have not seen her for over a week or two now. If you want to get out of here you will need to find Axillina and ask her for the reverse crystal." The ordinary talking bird replied.

" Hard work ay. Ok I will do it." said Sophie. Sophie marched along the hard brick road and started searching for the ice cream shop.

1 hour later

Sophie finally found the pink ice cream shop and was so tired she decided to buy an ice cream. " What kind of bucks is that? It says 1963 on the bottom. We only take the year 2058 bucks 'ere." replied the farmer who owned the ice cream shop. She didn't take 1963 dollar notes.

" Oh sorry. Um I sort of got sent into this year and I wanna get out of here so do you know who this Axillina girl is who is meant to own this place?" Sophie asked urgently. She was desperate for an ice cream and to get out of this huge colourful world.

"Ar nah. I ave no clue who this girl is. She is totally not behind me," said the strange and suspicious farmer "You're totally not a suspicious young lady are you." Sophie said sarcastically Sophie ran off behind the ice cream counter and saw Axillina trapped in a cage. Sophie had an idea. " Hey um would it be ok if I worked here for a little bit? Since I don't know what Axillina looks like, I would like to get some of the year 2058 bucks so that I can use it in this world. Can I work here on the night shift?" Sophie asked hoping for the correct answer.

"Um. No chance. Wait, you want some bucks. Well, ok I have some bucks and we do have a lot of people coming in here since this is the only ice cream shop in town. Oh, and this is totally just my friend behind us in this cage. People just love the fun."

Sophie was so excited to work at the ice cream shop. Seeing Axillina in the cage, she knew this could be her only chance to free her, find the crystal to reverse the spell and get her out of this strange colourful world. She knew she would have to come up with a plan secretly so that the farmer would not realise what she was doing. Sophie would have to think about this carefully as she may not get another chance and she was desperate to get back home,

"Ok nice hi. I will take over right now so you can have a break. Does your friend stay with us here?" Sophie said, trying to sound as normal as possible.

"Yes, she stays but don't touch her." Jolene the farmer said. A minute later Jolene walked off suspiciously. She straight away changed into a spy outfit and ran off behind the yellow bird.

"Hi Axillina I am Sophie and I am here to help you get out of here. But, I will only get you out if you give me the reverse crystal to get out of here" Sophie warned. I somehow got sucked into this place by my mirror." Sophie was extremely nervous.

"Ok yes I will help you get out of here. But what about Jolene? She will find out." Axillina explained that Jolene will know.

"Hmm, I know! You can come with me back home."

Out of Axillina's pocket came a jade crystal. Axillina carefully pulls out a jade crystal and holds it to the sun. In a split-second BOOM Sophie and Axillina were gone, vanished into thin air. Sophie and Axillina arrived home and waiting at the mirror were Jassy and Rob, Sophie's mum and dad.

"Axillina! Hi. Tell me did Sophie get sucked in the mirror again?" Jassy asked. She remembers when she got sucked in the mirror and Axillina saved her. " Why are you here? The other world is your home."

"I know but Jolene turned evil again and she can't turn back, so I am here. Do you mind if I stay here?" Axillina asked.

"Mind? We would love you to stay!" Rob replied.

The family had dinner and talked about the mirror. They discussed the idea of destroying the mirror and throwing it into the old dump up the road. They knew if the mirror was broken it would not be able to suck people into the weird world. They went upstairs to the attic and used a hammer to smash the mirror and it will never return. After that they slept peacefully in the light of the full moon, knowing they were now safe forever. The end!
