

A snapshot of learning in 5S

This semester in 5S,
we've done some pretty wonderful things.
We've written poems with a purpose,
to make our teacher's heart sing.

We've helped kindies learn about habitats,
bringing our zoo PowerPoints straight to them.
We had a science incursion,
that taught us Aboriginal science, and even crazy chem.

This week we've had our book
character parade,
some of us dressed as Matilda, Harry Potter and more.
The theme was 'Curious creatures, Wild Minds', 5S has them, of that we are sure.

We've worked hard to collect all the rubbish this week
To ensure it doesn't wash up the Great Barrier Reef.
We've studied leaves and a process called photosynthesis
It's nearly over now- we sigh, what a relief.

Look at our wonderful class
We've included some photos to show you We're proud of what we learnt until next time, 5S bids you adieu!
