Joke of the fortnight

I thought about being a knife-maker. I made great blades, but I just couldn't handle it.

Thought for the fortnight

Maturity means knowing when to walk away from people and situations that disturb your peace, compromise your self-respect, challenge your values or diminish your self-worth.

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Career Start for Apprentices

Queenslanders can now access more affordable apprenticeships and traineeships through the Career Start and Career Boost programs, supporting entry-level and advanced training in priority industries. Occupation Shortage Report - June 2025

The Occupation Shortage Report offers analysis on possible shortage pressures in the labour market. Some highlights this quarter:

- The national vacancy fill rate rose to 70.6%, showing employers are filling jobs more easily.
- Both metropolitan (72.2%) and regional (65.8%) fill rates improved, narrowing the gap between city and country.
- Fill rates for Skill Level 3 occupations (55.1%) remain well below other skill levels, despite some improvement over the year.
- A new Mismatch Index (MI) highlights uneven distribution of applicants and vacancies across occupations.
 - In 2024–25, 30% of applicants would need to switch occupations for a balanced market, down from 33% in 2023–24.
 - Professionals account for more than one-third of the mismatch.
 - A better balance could be achieved if some applicants shifted from Clerical and Administrative roles to Community and Personal Service work.

Summer jobs for high school students

Getting a casual job is a great way to save money and gain experience. Jobs for high school students can be tricky to pin down. How much experience you need and how old you have to be varies from job to job. But many employers are more concerned with how willing you are than your actual age (as long as you meet or exceed the minimum working age in your state or territory). There are plenty of summer jobs requiring no experience at all. You just need to know where to look. UQ have put together some ideas so click here for ideas to get you started including:

- Fast food crew member
- Retail assistant
- Santa's helper
- Letterbox dropper
- Pet sitter/dog walker
- Fruit picker
- Warehouse workers/pick packers
- Catering staff

- questionnaire.

Key dates for 2025/2026

If you haven't yet applied, consider applying as soon as possible and before Term Four becomes totally hectic (and it will). The closing dates to apply for courses commencing in Semester One, 2026 are:

Page 25 of 45

Round Offer	Apply and submit documents by	Final change to preferences
21 November 2025	7 November 2025	not applicable
23 December 2025	8 December 2025	12pm, 19 December 2025
15 January 2026	8 December 2025	11.59pm, 6 January 2025

Be aware that by these dates, many of the courses with fixed closing dates are no longer available and early offers are no longer an option. Check each institution for their fixed closing dates.

OFFER came in ... what next?

So you've reached the offer stage in your tertiary application journey! It's important to understand how you'll be notified and how to respond quickly to secure your place. It's important to know what options are available to you and how you will respond if you receive an offer. Click here (scroll down quite a way to the heading 'Offers') to read QTAC's information on:

- How you will be notified of your offer
- Responding to your offer - You can
 - Accept - Check with the institution for enrolment details and dates.
 - Decline - By declining your offer outright, you notify QTAC that you no longer wish to study or be considered for any other preferences.
 - Defer - Rules for course deferral vary by institution. Please visit the deferment page on the QTAC website for institution policies.
 - Conditional Response - By selecting a conditional response, you indicate that you would like to be considered for a higher preference.
- Offer round actions

Ordering your QTAC preferences properly

Go to the QTAC website (scroll down quite a way to the heading 'Preferences') and P11 in your QTAC Guide for information about managing your preferences. It is important to plan your preferences well. When preferencing your courses you should have:

Preferences 1 & 2 - Your dream courses aligning with your passions and aspirations.

Preferences 3 & 4 - Your backup options that include the less competitive courses within the same field or a different field that interests you.

Preferences 5 & 6 - Your courses that will see you start tertiary study and when successful, improve your tertiary rank for competing for a future course.

Your sixth preference should be one that you have a very good chance of gaining entry to, given its previous adjusted ATAR/Tertiary Rank and your results. You also need to check the offer round dates of your preferences and make changes if the dates differ (preferences need to be chronologically organised according to the offer round of the courses you are applying for).

Courses you are offered in early offer rounds can be conditionally accepted and you can change your preferences for subsequent offer rounds if necessary.

Don't include wasted courses/preferences. Wasted courses include those that:

- You do not meet the entry requirements
- You would not do if you got an offer for them
- Are located in regional centres that you have not consulted your parents/guardians about
- Are too difficult or impossible to commute to given where you live
- Are very competitive and you listed them below much less competitive courses.

External assessment info

If you are studying QCAA General subjects, you will sit external assessments at the end of Year 12 as part of your assessment for each subject. External assessments are subject-based written exams that are:

- common to all schools
- summative — they count towards your final subject result for QCAA General subjects
- developed and marked by the QCAA.

Study Skills and Wellbeing

A stress management mind set

1. Focus on what you can control and do it well - try not to spend emotional energy on what is out of your control
2. Give yourself credit when it is due - we don't get everything right all the time but own the wins
3. You don't have to solve everyone else's problems - manage yourself well and you will be a good friend
4. Don't get or keep being sucked into believing everything you read or see on social media - it's all too often 'just a made up story'
5. What you think is how you are - watch the self talk or the conversations in your head that you have with yourself. We are too often our own worst critics. Listen to the positive voice.
6. Make sure that you have regular 'Me Time' - time to sit, unwind and do something you like doing

Exam Revision

Revising can be a little daunting but being organised will help you keep track of what you need to do so you don't waste time going over some topics too often at the expense of others. Click here to read more about Melbourne Uni's following suggestions:

- Find out what kind of exam you will be sitting
- Look at old exam papers
- Review the subject handbook and objectives
- Be clear about exam details
- Set goals and prepare early
- Find a space just for study
- Remove distractions from the study area
- Organise your subject material
- Prioritise your subjects
- Prioritise the topics within a subject
- Revision in action
- Making a revision programme (with video)
- What to revise
- Improving subject knowledge for exams
- To learn by rote
- To remember concepts and theories
- Make revision meaningful
- Final tip - If you need help preparing for exams, seek it as early as possible, whether it is from your tutors, lecturers, Academic Skills Advisers or student support services.

Music to study to

Struggling to stay focused? Listening to music can help you keep calm, increase your productivity, boost your mood and motivation and even help you stay in the zone for longer. While listening to your favourite band might be great for keeping your spirits high, it might end up in a two-hour dance-a-thon and end up being more of a distraction. But which music is the best for studying? Click here to read The Good Universities Guide's ideas of good music options to study by.

3 Myths About Early Entry Programs

You've heard about Early Entry programs but there's a lot of muddled info out there. Year 13 have broken down some of the biggest myths surrounding how you can lock in a place at a great uni! Just a heads up, they're using the University of New England (UNE) as an example in the article and not all universities have the same early entry policies, so make sure you check up on all the different policies of any unis you're applying to. Click here to read about the three main myths around early offers:

Myth 1: If I'm planning on using an early entry scheme, I don't have to worry about my marks in Year 11 or Year 12

Myth 2: Getting an Early Entry offer means I can't apply for other courses later

Myth 3: You can apply for any course you want via the Early Entry Program

Course Seeker -

Course Seeker is an Australian Government initiative where you can search and compare thousands of courses from different institutions across Australia. The website displays course information, entry requirements, admission processes, student satisfaction and graduate survey results. It is particularly helpful if you are thinking of studying interstate.

Early offers

Offers made through Universities' Early Offer schemes for Year 12 are mostly being made by QTAC, however, some are made directly from the institution. If you get an offer, your options are:

- accepting the offer outright
- accepting the offer conditionally
- deferring (depending on the university).

If you accept an early offer outright, your QTAC application will stop there. If the university allows you to conditionally accept your early offer and you choose this option, you need to go back into your QTAC application and reorder your course preferences putting your most desired course as your Number 1 preference. You will then be eligible for consideration in the next offer round. Click on the following links to find out university specific information: ACU, Bond, UniSC, CHC, CQU, GU, JCU, QUT, SCU, Torrens, UNE, UniSQ, UQ. If you have any questions, it is best to check with the university directly.

Fast track options - are they suitable for you?

Institutions use a semester system with two periods of study: the first from around March to June, followed by a short winter break and the second from around July to November, followed by a long summer break while some institutions and courses have a third period of study that takes place during the traditional summer break. These three periods are called trimesters. By fitting an extra semester's worth of material into each year, students can graduate from their course sooner (for example, a standard three-year bachelor degree may be completed in two years). These accelerated options are known as "fast-tracked" courses. The Good Universities Guide has put together an article that sets out the positives and negatives of the fast-track option so you can decide if it's for you.

Micro-apprenticeships could improve your employability after Uni

Micro-apprenticeships are mini on-the-job training programs run by an employer, that build on the skills, knowledge or experience gained during University degrees/Diplomas and can cover an incredible variety of industry-specific skills. Being much shorter than a typical endorsed work placement, micro-apprenticeships are highly accessible and are becoming increasingly sought after when kickstarting a STEM career. They're specifically designed to supercharge your transferrable skills and get you up-skilled – ideally by your employer. Click here to find out more.

Open Universities Australia

If you can't get to a Uni campus (perhaps interstate or you are regional) or only want to study one subject/course to start with, then Open Universities Australia may be your answer. Open Universities Australia (OUA) offers online higher education courses through OUA, you can:

- Study online, so you have flexibility about when and where you study
- Choose from a large range of undergraduate courses
- Select individual undergraduate units/courses/subjects instead of a whole course
- Study with Australian universities e.g. Monash, Griffith, Macquarie, Curtin, RMIT, Swinburne University of Technology, University of South Australia and many more
- Graduate with the same qualification as an on-campus student
- Access online support services.

Eligible OUA students may be able to access HECS-HELP, FEE-HELP or VET Student Loans depending on their course. Find out more on the OUA website.

Things I wish I knew before coming to university

Moataz Hamde shares with ABC's EveryDay the things she wishes she understood/knew about before going to uni. She says that her idea of what to expect from university life came in the form of trashy US college movies. She was gearing up for non-stop debauchery, but the reality was far different — a demanding workload, strict deadlines and the ultimate test of mental, emotional and physical strength. Click here to read more about her tips for managing and being successful at university including:

- Stress less, no-one cares what your school score was
- Make sure you're studying what you want to learn
- Keep an open mind
- Expand your circle
- Go out and get some real-world experience
- Study hard and work a little bit

Thinking of going to uni? Read this first!

What's your motivation for going to uni? Is it to get qualified for your dream career? To experience the student lifestyle? Or is it because everyone is telling you it's the only way to get a good job? Before making your choice, click here and consider the following:

- Why am I going to university?
- Is this course right for me?
- Which university is right for me?
- Will I get a job when I finish?

Using VET qualifications for competitive entry to University

Most universities offer an entry pathway using your VET qualifications. University policies differ and can change at any time so it's best to check their websites for any changes. These ranks are relevant to students who HAVE NOT sat the STAT test (through QTAC more suited to non school leavers) or gained a score less than 150.

Year 12 VET qualifications and the tertiary ranks they are awarded by institution

Institution	Certificate III	Certificate IV	Diploma
QUT	68 (QUT Dip entry only)	74	87
Griffith Uni	68	74	87
UniSC	68	74	82
CQU	68	74	82
Bond	NA	74	78
ACU	Check with ACU	74	82
SCU	67	73	75
TAFE	72	74	84

UQ 68 74 87 (Can be used for entry into Semester 2 of first year out of school)

JCU If you completed a Certificate III or a Certificate IV qualification while at school, you are guaranteed entry into a number of JCU undergraduate courses. Some courses require additional subject prerequisites to be met and are detailed in the Handbook found on each course page.

Year 12 Subject Adjustment Schemes

Some universities offer adjustment factors when you successfully complete specific subjects in Year 12. Adjustment factors are additional selection ranks that make you more competitive for entry into your nominated course. Each university has its own scheme. You don't have to apply for these schemes as adjustment factors are automatically applied through QTAC. School subject adjustment factors only apply to Year 12 qualifications (e.g. ATAR and IB and some non-ATAR pathways) on leaving school. - hear from a current scholarship recipient about the benefits of a scholarship
- understand key scholarship updates
- participate in a live Q&A session

Click here for more information and registration details.

UQ's Adjustment Factors - are you eligible?

Adjustment factors aren't extra ATAR points, they don't actually change your overall ATAR. They are bonus that tertiary institutions (such as universities) add onto your ATAR to increase your selection rank, helping you get into specific programs at that institution. It's important to know that different institutions have different types of adjustment factors and vary the maximum number of rank adjustments you can gain – for UQ, it's a max of 5. Click here to find out what UQ gives adjustment factors for including:

- Completing specific subjects in high school
- Living in a rural or remote location
- Attending a specific high school
- Experiencing hardship financially or personally
- Identifying as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander
- Attending uni in your local area
- Being an elite athlete or performer
- How do I apply for rank adjustments?
