Weekly Overview

Week 3: Challenge accepted

- after making some goals last week, week 3 is all about taking up the challenge and seeing what we can do if we put our minds to it

Week 4: Sports, Sports, Sports

- this week is rather self-explanatory, so far this term we have been focused more on the mind then the body so week 4 is all about sports and fun games.

Week 5: Teams make dreams

- week 5 is all about teamwork. The week will feature a wide range of activities and team building exercises to test and strengthen the student's teamwork

week 6: what is art

- the last two weeks have been about sports and team work so now we are taking a look at arts. We are taking a look at all the different forms of art. How it is made, why it is made and how it can change depending on the viewer

week 7: next level

- another level, the next step, what is it, how do we achieve it this week is all about allowing students the chance to improve their skills. Students will be given the option to choice a skill or talent they wish to improve and are given the chance to explore, taking that skill to the next level.

Term 3 is here already, isn't time just flying.

It has been an interesting couple of weeks here at Saint Mary's TheirCare. A crackle of Cockatoos has moved into the trees above the basketball court. The group of yellow-tailed black cockatoo have been interesting to watch. The sounds they make are nice and comforting. They have however made an absolute mess underneath their new home. The kids have also found the birds to be a fascinating and have enjoyed some casual bird watching now and again.

In service we have been playing a new game called ultimate werewolf, our version is based of a social deduction game with the same name. we have made some changes to how the game works to make it easier to understand for the younger students. What's great about Ultimate werewolf is that it prompts student growth in critical thinking and working as a team. The students have loved playing and always ask to play a round or two each day.

Overall its been a really enjoyable couple of weeks and the team is looking forward to see what the rest of term 3 brings
