

Being a Dad

Free community information session for dads

Join our FREE information session and get options for being a dad, the relationship with your partner and connecting with your kids.

We'll share information and free resources developed for dads on:

- seven types of dad
- healthy family relationships
- bonding with your kids
- connecting with other dads
- dads at work.

This session is being delivered as part of the Support for Fathers project's national roadshow, which includes community information sessions and professional training on our new resources.
