

Outside of School Hours Care

Week Ten Term Three

Hello St Joseph families, we have arrived to the end of term. We have been bust at OSHC preparing for Assessment and Ratings, which is occurring this Thursday and Friday. The service will be rated in all areas and the inspector for the Department of Education will observe the daily functioning of our service. The children are aware, we have been discussing the event over the last couple of weeks. I will let you know how we go in a couple of weeks.

The fete was amazing, we spent a lovely sunny day handing out treats and goods from our generous organisation, CatholicCare. It was nice to chat with families 'outside of school hours'.

Kids spinning way too many times on the 'storm' and Chase and Kobi's mum preparing for the Pie eating contest. She was a champion!

Our Health Well-being project has been going well. Children have been filling out activity sheets to share with friends what activities they participate in our community. It is helpful to share what is available for families and why they are great community activities.

Our Always food and Sometimes food poster, this is on display front of the hall. We are beginning to create and Healthy Families Recipe Book. We want children to add favourite healthy recipes, we have a couple so far, yet, we need plenty more. So often I hear families say (when picking up their child) "What's for dinner tonight??" "I don't know what we are having for dinner tonight??" So, the recipe book will be on the front table and as you are leaving the service of an evening, have a quick look, take a pic of what you like, and problem solved! We want recipes that are quick, easy and healthy and of ingredients that are common.

Next term, we are beginning the Aboriginal arts and history project, it will be quite involved and extend across half the term.

Lastly, fun pics of what we get up to...
