No first dose administration and monitoring effects of medication

Please note: School staff do not monitor the effects of medication and will seek emergency medical assistance if concerned about a student's reaction or behaviour following medication.

For this reason, and in case of an adverse reaction, school staff do not administer any first dose of medication. This should be done under supervision of the family or health practitioner.

Self-management of medication (for camps only)

Students in the early years will generally need supervision of their medication and other aspects of health care management. Older students may be able to take responsibility for their own health care.

Self management on camp (if there are no special storage requirements*), should follow agreement by parents/carers, the school (allocated camp first aider in consultation with health centre staff) and in some instances the student's medical/health practitioner.

Self storage and administration of medication should not create potentially unsafe access to that medication by other students

Camp permission: I give permission for my child to store and self-administer their medication
 I have/have not consulted with our medical/health practitioner
 I agree that the allocated camp first aider may contact me to discuss any concerns about this self-management
