

TT (TINY TANK) BATTLE

“Stop click clacking,” Link said as he shot me in the air. I exploded in to mm size pieces. He is unbelievably good at exploding me.

Link and I were playing TT (Tiny Tanks) on the 5th of Feb at each other’s houses.

I logged in the game and started the tutorial. There was blocks everywhere and yellow tanks were attacking. It was so easy but I didn’t expect the difficult game.

I started the real game and got shot multiple times. Link helped me to survive and I saw him playing on my tablet. The next round began.

When the game started it was very hard because they had Link on their team. He came to kill me like it was his goal. Link’s name popped up in the kill board. They won the game by a mile.

We had a lot of fun. I hope we are on the same team next round. I was called to do something and Link left the call.

By Jacob