MELBOURNE

Careers Update

June 2021

A DAY AT MELBOURNE

Year 10 and 11 students from Victoria and interstate are invited to get a taste of the university experience at Melbourne.

Students will have the opportunity to attend lectures and interactive workshop sessions that will challenge them to think critically and gain insight into the broad areas of study available to them.

They'll also have the chance to chat with our staff about studying with us, including our courses, student societies and support services at our course and student services expo.

All students will also enjoy a tour of our beautiful Parkville campus.

Date: Thursday 8 July

STEM NEWSLETTER FOR STEM TEACHERS

Throughout the year there are many opportunities for secondary students to take part in STEM activities. These include everything from work experience to making solar cells.

To help schools find out what's on at Melbourne, our STEM focused faculties are now producing a STEM in Schools newsletter. The newsletter will be published once per term.

Schools will receive updates on STEM workshops, events and programs for secondary school students, as well as content and profiles that can be shared with students.

STEM coordinators and teacher are encouraged to sign up for the newsletter.

FAREWELL WENDY

Wendy Holden and Lois Carlton in September 2019 at the celebration of her 25 years of outstanding service.

It is the end of an era for the University of Melbourne, as we said farewell to Wendy Holden, after 28 years with us, on Friday 28 May. The following has been taken from a piece by Executive Director and Academic Registrar, Student and Scholarly Services, Joanne Ligouris, sent to all staff informing them of Wendy's retirement.

"Over the course of her career, Wendy has been at the forefront of the University's student recruitment efforts. She has led many initiatives, including the introduction of interstate visits over more than 20 years ago and supporting the launch of the Melbourne Scholarships and the initial Kwong Lee Dow Young Scholars program as part of the Melbourne Model implementation. She has also been a driving force in the annual School Principals' Dinner.

"Throughout her time at the University, Wendy has had a passion for attracting equity and regional students to Melbourne, most recently through her advocacy of the Principals' Scholarships building upon the earlier Access Melbourne program, fulfilling an institutional objective and her personal commitment to equity, access and fairness. In recognition of these achievements, Wendy and team were awarded the 2012 Diversity and Inclusion Award in recognition of these efforts and this sits alongside Wendy's Universitas 21 Scholarship as major career awards.

"Central to Wendy's success has been her ability to build enduring partnerships with colleagues across the sector, including School Principals, Careers Practitioners, Colleges and secondary school contacts which have strengthened and diversified our onshore student recruitment channels for many years.

"I personally have enjoyed working with Wendy over many years and I will treasure the opportunity to have worked more closely with her in recent years. I value her professionalism, expertise and steadfastness. Most importantly, I appreciate her unwavering commitment to enabling students, who she has superbly served over many, many years, to achieve their goals. Wendy has without a doubt, demonstrated what it means to be a good University citizen. She will be greatly missed, and I wish her the very best with what comes next."
