

New industry and regional profiles for students and learners

The Victorian Skills Authority (VSA) has launched a new, free online resource for job seekers, career changers, students, teachers and career advisers.

The website pages provide insights into training and skills for high-demand industries across Victoria, future skills needs, career success stories and connections to support services.

The pages also include interactive maps showing the locations of training providers and Skills and Jobs Centres in each region of Victoria, along with localised job market data and case studies.

Written in plain language and designed to be accessible, the profiles make it easy for users to navigate through the wealth of information available.

Data from the VSA's employment forecast dashboard and links to the Victorian Skills Gateway make the industry and regional profiles a one-stop location to access localised training information, career opportunities and future industry demands.
