After I read my book, I decided to write down some questions I had while I was reading the book.

I made 8 questions for the book and I feel like the next chapter can answer the 8 questions I had.

I was reading the book and I was visualising how Gretchen would look like in real life, since the book had described her as a chubby girl in elementary school. Ten years later people who knew her back in elementary school hadn't recognise her because of all the weight she lost from back then.

I precliited that something interesting would happen so that Chapter 2 can have something interesting to start off the book. I also predict that they could be introducting the characters to the book.

that maybe they introduce the characters than simething to one character that causes the whole book be written around that one character.

23 / 07

I wrote down two predicts in what would happen in Chapter One before I read the book.
