REFLECTION by Nick Brodie

Tellingly, it is the question that elicits the answer in today's Gospel. Jesus is the Christ who is unafraid to ask and listen before affirming what is true.

This is an idea which Pope Leo XIV picks up on. Reflecting on how his predecessor and namesake 'lived in an age of momentous and disruptive change', Leo clearly admires how Leo XIII 'sought to promote peace by encouraging social dialogue between capital and labour, technology and human intelligence, and different political cultures and nations.'

The Church's social doctrine, these popes remind us, is not incompatible with dialogue. Leo calls on Christians to seek 'to learn how to confront problems, for these are always different, since every generation is new, and faces new challenges, dreams and questions.'

It is therefore always imperative that we listen to the voices of the poor and marginalised, Leo says. 'Their viewpoints,' he points out, 'are vital if we are to see the world through God's eyes.'

Reminding us that the Second Vatican Council called the Church to engage in 'reading the signs of the times and of interpreting them in the light of the Gospel', Leo invites us 'to participate actively and creatively in this discernment process, and thus contribute, with all of God's people, to the development of the Church's social doctrine in this age of significant social changes, listening to everyone and engaging in dialogue with all.'

The traditional Peter's Pence collection takes place this Sunday. This is a concrete way to support the Holy Father in his mission of service to the universal Church.

Peter's Pence is a gesture of communion and participation in the Pope's mission to proclaim the Gospel, promote peace, and spread Christian charity.
