

I look at who you are and understand what I see the more you tell me the deeper our connection will be

©TM

I need you too understand that I care but I can't do that unless you share give me an insight into your life and I'll sparkle the light to help you ignite

I can give you my shoulder to lean on to help you through the day you have been on.

I can give you endless love to help you spread your wings like a dove let our souls intertwine and we will be a step closer to making the world divine
