PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Who is Barker Project Management?

Barker Project Management is a consultancy who can handle anything in the civil construction and engineering space across Gippsland.

With a depth of experience stretching across Victoria's public and private sectors, we can help you achieve your goals no matter what they are. This could be working directly on a project, handling project design management, helping develop your business in to a better or bigger version of itself, or putting systems in place to save time and money day-to-day.

Are we affordable?

We believe in charging what we are worth, not what we can make. Our rates are generally below market rate, and vary depending on the requirements and duration of work. Have a chat to us and we will find an arrangement that suits your budget.

Given we are all about creating opportunities for young engineers, we can also decrease costs for our clients by utilising junior engineers to undertake suitable tasks. If you take up this option, the price will drop and you will be giving a young engineer a leg up.
