

WELCOME to the 2026 Easter Egg Competition

Dear Trinity students,

You are invited to enter this year's Easter Egg Competition!

The person who most closely guesses the number of chocolate eggs contained in the 3.2-litre jar will win the jar and its entire contents. (See photos below.)

Please see below for Terms & Conditions / Q&A. Wishing you all good fortune and happy guessing!

Terms & Conditions / Q&A:

1. Who is eligible to enter? Any student at Trinity Catholic School in Richmond VIC 3121 at the time of the winner announcement date (see condition/question 5 below) with the exception of the organising family. Trinity teachers/staff are welcome to guess too, but the prize is intended for students – the staff member who guesses most closely will however receive an alternate prize, though not necessarily of the same value.
2. Can I play if I don't like or am allergic to chocolate eggs? Yes of course. You can just play for fun - and the winner can gift the chocolates to anyone they please. The eggs were purchased last week and have been kept in a cool environment, however, no responsibility will be taken for quality or allergic reactions. (Though we bought some extra eggs and thought they were YUMMO! Please see question 3 below regarding types of eggs purchased.) There are also two bags of dairy/nut/gluten-free chocolate eggs that did not arrive in time to be added to the jar but will be given to any winner who should have these allergies – see next page for ingredients. Ingredients of other eggs are available on request.
3. Are all the eggs the same type/size? No. They include a mix of Ferrero Rocher, Lindt and Red Tulip chocolate eggs. They are all different sizes, but we have not done the common trick of putting a super large egg in the middle.
4. How do I submit my guess and can I change my mind? Submit your guess by filling out the form that will be made available at Trinity reception with the number you are guessing plus your full name, class and the date. Submitting a guess constitutes agreement with these Terms & Conditions. You can change your guess but can only submit a maximum of one new guess per day from 9am Monday the 16th of March up till 3pm Friday the 27th of March 2026. Only your last eligible guess will be taken as the official one. Any guesses that are not submitted correctly may be deemed invalid.
5. Can a parent/adult submit a guess on my behalf? Yes, but these terms and conditions will still apply.
6. When will the winner be announced? The winner will be announced at the final assembly of the term on Thursday the 2nd of April 2025. The correct number of eggs will also be announced at this time.
7. If I win, how do I pick up my prize? The prize will be presented at the assembly at the time of the winner announcement, unless the winner is unavailable at that time, in which case the winner must arrange to pick up the prize from Trinity reception (or get someone to pick it up on your behalf) any day after the Term 1 holidays until the 25th of April (ANZAC day).
8. Can I get a close-up look at the jar? Yes, you can view the jar at Trinity reception during the competition period. If you are polite, the reception staff might even let you hold the jar (carefully), but you cannot remove the lid. When staff are not at reception, the jar will be secured. Anyone caught tampering with the jar will be disqualified from the competition and will get teased by the Easter Bunny.
9. What if there's a tie? The chocolate eggs will be split up and the winners must decide who gets the jar. No argument will be entered into regarding the winning result.
10. Can the organiser be bribed to give clues as to the correct number of eggs? No, but we'll give anyone who has bothered to read this Q&A a free clue: The answer is in the hundreds and there are significantly more than a hundred eggs in the jar.
11. Can I ask more questions? Yes, provide the Trinity admin staff with your question and they will forward it on to the organiser (Archie – Nhi Hoang on behalf of Trinity and the Dorin/Hoang family).

There are two bags of the following Alpha chocolate eggs that were not delivered in time to be added to the jar but will be given to any winner who should have allergies.
