The yourcareer.gov.au website helps you explore career pathways based on your interests, skills, qualifications, and location. It's full of reliable and accurate information and resources to support your exploration and decision-making journey.

Discover the A to Z of occupations

Browse over 1,000 occupations available in Australia. Find out the future demand, estimated pay, what training is required, and more.

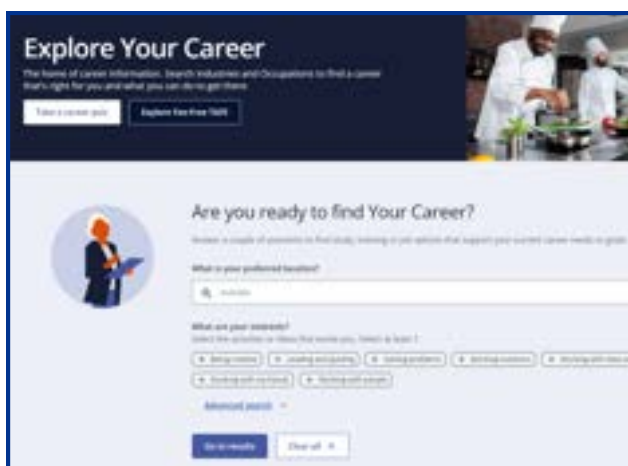

Leaving school and not sure what's next?

The School Leavers Information Kit can help you make your next move. It's your guide to education, training and work options. View it online or download your copy of the PDF.

Take the Career Quiz

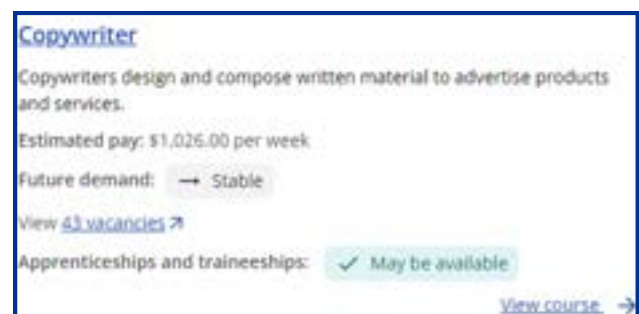

Just answer 5 quick questions to start exploring

1. Choose your location
2. Select your interests
3. Identify your deal breakers
4. Add optional experiences and qualifications
5. Nominate your preferred industries

Explore your results

Sort occupations by pay, future demand, relevance, or in alphabetical order. If want to narrow down your results, you can add filters you may have skipped in the quiz.

See an overview of the job and whether it's offered as apprenticeships or traineeship. Delve deeper with links to training courses and job vacancies.

There are many pathways you can take to gain skills through study or training. On the Your Career website, you can:

- Discover and compare thousands of vocational education and training (VET) courses offered in Australia, from a Certificate I to an Advanced Diploma.
- Find links to more information about microcredentials and university courses.
- Investigate Australian Apprenticeships and Traineeships that provide recognised qualifications in over 500 occupations across 50 industries.
- Explore Fee-Free TAFE which provides government funded courses in industries with skills shortages or growth areas.

Find Tips on Getting Job Ready

Find tips on getting job ready

Job hunting can be daunting, but the key to success is to learn about the jobs you're applying for, understand your skills, and make sure your resume has the information employers are looking for.

If you know the job you want, but need help getting it, the Your Career website offers tips and tricks on how to get job ready. For example, you will find help with:

- Building your first resume or improving your current one with the resume quiz and resume checklist.
- Understanding the ins and outs of online interviewing.
- Learning how to sell yourself to future employers and colleagues quickly by preparing an elevator pitch.

2024 TWA SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS OPEN

Supported by the Sisters of Charity Foundation, the Program is open to all tradeswomen apprentices and trainees living and working in Victoria.

Applicants must be in any building and construction, automotive, civil construction, horticulture, mining or manufacturing related trade.

Applicants must provide proof of residency and explain in 25 words or less why they need scholarship support.

Six x $2,000 scholarships are open to all current tradeswomen apprentices and trainees.

Four x $500 start up scholarships for women who need financial support to commence a trade pre-apprenticeship, apprenticeship or traineeship.

Applications close 5pm, 7 June 2024 – apply here.
