

Where are they now

Samantha Boland

Samantha graduated from Stuartholme in 2016. She then attended Gatton UQ where she completed her studies in 2022 with honours. Whilst at Uni, she was the secretary of the Gatton Black Pigs (rugby club) and played Black Sows rugby 7's. Samantha participated in intercollegiate meat judging and was a UQ coach for meat carcass judging.

Samantha is currently working as a district veterinarian in Inverell for Local Land Services. They give local and independent advice on biosecurity and animal health issues. They can investigate herd and flock problems to help maintain a productive and secure local livestock industry.
