

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

Audience Affirmations

They managed to take a 500 page book and condense this into a play without losing any of Dickens's power as a storyteller. I wish we could take it on tour. The cast take us from their hulks and moors of 18 Century England to Miss Havisham's wedding prepared drawing room inspired by Dickens understanding of colonial Australia. To quote A Tale of Two Cities: It was indeed the 'best of times and the worst of times.' Mr. Sean Brannan

Every character was convincing and I have not seen the Sarto Centre feel and look so beautiful. I felt as though I was in Shakespeare's Globe Theatre. Mr. Alex Listo

I loved the story of Pip's life as it evolved. Watching him grow from a boy into a young man, all the while learning what it is to be human. It was just beautiful. Mrs. Odette Shahady

Under Ms. Lindley's direction, the students of Mercy Catholic College and St Pius X College Chatswood have achieved success beyond their years. Their production of Great Expectations was funny, frightening, engaging and full of spirit. My congratulations to all involved. Mr. Mark Casey

Our sincere thanks to Ms. Lindley for giving so many students the opportunity of a lifetime. Her expertise and hard work have been highly appreciated. Well done to all our Mercy Catholic College and St Pius X College students. May you continue to act, sing and weave your moral tales of wisdom. Mr. Nathan Mulheron
