WHAT'S BEEN HAPPENING

Dear TeamKids Families,

The past two weeks have been filled with exciting opportunities for children to learn, create, collaborate and explore new ideas through play and hands-on experiences.

KLASK Game: Children enjoyed playing KLASK, challenging one another in friendly competitions. Through the game, children practiced turn-taking, following rules, communication, sportsmanship and managing both winning and losing. The experience encouraged children to interact positively and support their peers.

Cardboard Target Golf- As part of our focus on sustainability, children transformed a cardboard box into a target golf game. Rather than throwing the box away, we reused it as a resource for imaginative and physical play. Children practiced aiming, coordination and concentration while developing an understanding of how everyday materials can be reused in creative ways.

National Science Week- To celebrate National Science Week, children participated in a range of fun and hands-on science experiences. They explored how lungs work by creating paper-bag lungs and experimented with Oobleck, investigating its unusual properties through touch, observation and discussion. These experiences encouraged children to ask questions, make predictions and explore scientific concepts through play.

Exploring Aboriginal Culture- As part of developing our Aboriginal Corner, we explored the importance of gum tree leaves in Aboriginal smoking ceremonies. Children learned about the cultural significance of gum leaves and helped collect and display them in our Aboriginal Corner. This provided an opportunity to develop respect and appreciation for Aboriginal culture and connection to Country.

Thank you for your continued support of our children's learning and development.
