Live at International House

More than just accommodation for undergraduate and graduate students

International House is a residential college owned by the University of Melbourne. We bring together over 300 undergraduate and graduate students from Australia and overseas, from more than 40 countries around the world. Our community is devoted to academic success, intercultural understanding and personal growth. We accept students from the University of Melbourne, Monash University (studying in City or Parkville), Australian Catholic University, RMIT University and students who are over 18 from Trinity College Foundation Study.

At International House, students quickly find a sense of belonging and “a home away from home”. Besides accommodation, we also provide meals, academic assistance, professional enrichment and leadership opportunities for our residents. Our social, cultural and sporting programs are designed to enhance your University experience. International House is a great foundation or you as you embark on the next chapter in your life.

CONVENIENT & SAFE ENVIRONMENT

International House is located on Royal Parade, just a 10-minute walk from the University of Melbourne's Parkville campus and a 10-minute tram ride to Melbourne's CBD. International House offers a safe and secure environment for students. The college has residential staff, security guards and electronic key system. Our students also have access to the University's medical and counselling services. In case of emergencies, assistance is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

UNDERGRADUATE ACCOMMODATION

International House provides a range of accommodation styles for undergraduate students. First year students have individual bedrooms with shared facilities on each floor. Female-only floors are available upon request. Returning students can apply for single apartments or shared apartments, which are allocated based on seniority and involvement within the community. These apartments have their own cooking facilities, lounge room and private bathroom.

Please visit go.unimelb.edu.au/b57r for more photos of undergraduate rooms.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT & PROFESSIONAL ENRICHMENT

International House offers extensive academic support, including an undergraduate tutorial program, consultations with tutors, free access to textbooks from the college library, a 24-hour computer lab with free printing and multiple study rooms that aim to facilitate student learning. Professional enrichment, which includes mentoring, workshops, seminars and guest speakers, helps students adjust to tertiary learning quickly and gives them the support they need to excel in their studies.

CATERING

Meals (breakfast, lunch, dinner) are served daily in the Dining Hall and provide our undergraduate residents with a diverse and balanced diet. Our catering team is happy to assist students who have special diets such as vegan, halal, gluten free etc. Dining as a community is one of the best ways to meet people, catch up on news and stay in touch with other residents. From 2021, we offer flexible catering packages to suit individual needs and budget, which allow students to self-cater for some meals or select full-catering if that suits them. Please refer to the fee section for more details.

STUDENT LIFE

International House is set on 1.5 hectares of land with beautiful gardens and is surrounded by 2 public parks. There are great facilities to play sport, including a gym and a multi-purpose court. Students can join the comprehensive sports program between the colleges and informal sporting events on campus. All residents have access to music practice rooms, an architecture and design studio, student lounges and entertainment areas. Students can be involved in a rich social and cultural program, organised by the International House Student Club (ISHC). Those who enjoy music or the arts will have opportunities to display their talents at one of many International House performances. There are plenty of volunteering and leadership opportunities available at International House, which helps our residents develop their skills and enhance their future employability.

SCHOLARSHIPS

International House has a range of scholarships for new and continuing students from Australia and overseas. Scholarships are awarded on criteria such as financial need, contribution to your community, or academic achievement. If you complete the scholarship application at the same time as your application to International House, you will be considered for all the scholarships that you might be eligible for. Below are some of the most generous scholarships:

- Commerce at International House Scholarship (for students studying Commerce)
100% accommodation costs covered for 1 year
- Clifford Family Scholarship (for students studying Science)
50% accommodation costs covered for 3 years

Please visit ihouse.unimelb.edu.au/scholarships for a full list of International House scholarships, selection criteria and are included in your fees.

GRADUATE ACCOMMODATION

Our graduate apartments are self-catering and offer graduate residents the perfect combination of private and communal space to live and study. There are over 60 graduate apartments, all fully furnished with private bathrooms and with/without a kitchenette. There is a communal kitchen, dining room and lounge on each floor for graduate residents to prepare their own meals and interact with other residents. Daily breakfast, a welcome BBQ and formal dinners are included in your fees.

Graduate residents have access to a dedicated graduate study room and a common room, in addition to a library, a computer room and other common study areas, sports and recreational facilities at International House, as well as membership of the International House Graduate Student Association (IHGSA). The IHGSA organises social and cultural events and activities for graduate residents at International House to help them socialise, make new friends and build a support network.

Graduate students are encouraged to take advantage of the academic and professional development opportunities at International House. These include weekly group-writing sessions; two academic seminars each semester at which a panel of graduate residents present on their research; plus employability seminars and writing intensives. Graduates are also encouraged to work together with the Librarian and Academic Coordinator to develop research and learning skills, plan their next steps, or access learning resources.

MEET OUR RESIDENTS:

Abbey Milligan (Australia)

Bachelor of Agriculture, The University of Melbourne
Clifford Family Scholarship recipient

“International House has been amazing in fostering an incredibly supportive environment for all of us, taking care of us and encouraging us to do things to take care of ourselves, both mentally and physically. I’ve made friends I know will last a lifetime and I’ve had experiences I would never have had otherwise. It’s been one of the greatest experiences of my life so far and I wouldn’t change it for the world.”

Laurence Lee (Hong Kong SAR)

Bachelor of Science, The University of Melbourne
Rotary Club of Malvern Scholarship recipient

“What made International House really stand out was its diverse community of students. I did not expect everyone to be so warm and friendly and always looks out for one another. I enjoy living at International House so much and have such great fun from all the formal dinners, cultural events and wonderful parties. The meals and the weekly tutorials at International House are also the highlights of my college experience, which allowed me to make the most out of my studies.”
