Level 3 jobs require a VET Diploma or Advanced Diploma.

Level 4 jobs usually require a VET or university Bachelor degree (or higher).

Career Opportunities with mycar

INTERESTED IN CARS?

Do you love everything about cars? Are you a problem-solver? Maybe you're always on hand to help friends and family get the most out of their vehicles... transform your curiosity into a career and join the growing national team of car enthusiasts at mycar.

There are several ways to start:

Work Experience Program

Gain a high-level understanding of what an Apprentice Mechanic at mycar is all about. You'll be involved in workshop and office-based experiences and will be always supervised by a qualified Technician.

School-Based Apprenticeships

A school-based apprenticeship combines paid work, training, school, as well as an industry, recognised national qualification credit towards the HSC. They're a great way to establish the career you want, whilst you are completing school.

Apprenticeships

An apprenticeship is a four-year learn-on-the-job course that combined with automotive theory. Both motor mechanic apprenticeships and diesel mechanic apprenticeships are available.

Visit <https://www.mycar.com.au/about/careers> to find out more and if you're interested in any of the careers on offer at mycar, please contact our team at careers@mycar.com.au

What do Automotive Engineers do?

Automotive engineers are a specialised type of mechanical engineer. They design and manufacture vehicles and their subsystems, ensuring they meet safety, performance, and efficiency standards. They work on everything from engine design to aerodynamics, focusing on improving vehicle performance and functionality. They collaborate with teams to develop innovative solutions for transportation challenges, shaping the future of mobility. They need a deep understanding of vehicle dynamics, propulsion systems, and materials science.

What kind of course do I need to study to become an Automotive Engineer?

- Engineering Associate: 2-year Advanced Diploma of Engineering Technology or Associate Degree of Engineering with a Mechanical major.
- Engineering Technologist: 3-year Bachelor of Engineering Science or Technology with a Mechanical major.
- Professional Engineer: 4-year Bachelor of Engineering with a Mechanical major.
