UAC Digital / Mental Health and the HSC Webinars

Thursday 15 July at 6pm and

Thursday 2 September

A panel of experts will help HSC students and their parents identify the differences between healthy stress and more serious mental health challenges.

We know the recent disruptions to school holidays and classes have been unsettling and no doubt disrupted some of your study plans. It's natural to feel stressed and anxious. If you need some practical advice about managing these feelings, UAC Digital is bringing together a panel of experts to chat about mental health and the HSC.

They will help you understand what healthy stress is, suggest strategies to manage your mental health leading up to, and during, the exams, and provide advice on what to do if you're having more serious mental health challenges.

UAC - Equity Scholarships (ES)

These are generally awarded to students from low socio-economic backgrounds, particularly those who receive means-tested, Centrelink income support payments.

There are many other disadvantages that institutions can look at.

These include illness and disability, carer, refugee, indigenous and out of home care attributes, as well as geographic location and English language difficulties.

'University can be a taxing time,' said Adam Hennessy from UAC's Access team.

'If you are struggling financially and meet the criteria for an equity scholarship, jump on and complete an application so institutions know who you are and what you are going through.'

Scholarships vary according to institutions, they include financial remuneration, tutoring, book bursaries, accommodation, and the like. The nature of scholarships is entirely the province of individual institutions.

Applications are currently open. To apply, applicants need to be commencing studies in 2022 or currently studying at an institution.

UAC Digital / Let's Chat – Communications and Media

21 July. 6pm

Thinking of applying for a Communications or Media degree? We'll provide HSC students and their parents with information about additional selection criteria, pathway courses and career options, and give answers to the most commonly asked questions.

<https://uacdigital.easywebinar.live/commsmedia>

Let's Chat – Social Science and Arts

28 July. 6pm

Social Science and Arts degrees cover history, philosophy, Indigenous studies, international relations and much more.

ACU Passion for Law Early Entry - ACU Guarantee Program 2022 Entry

All Thomas More Law School Criminology and Law degrees

Applications close midnight Friday 24 September

Current Year 12 (2021) students are eligible to apply for the ACU Guarantee Program.

The ACU Guarantee program offers eligible Year 12 students a place at ACU based on your Year 11 results, so you guarantee your place at ACU, even before your Year 12 exams have started.

By assessing your Year 11 results, we can give you a predicted selection rank and make you an offer before you sit your HSC/VCE/QCE. Of course, your final exams still matter – and you still need to finish Year 12 to validate your offer – but you can tackle them comforted by the fact that you already have a place in your university degree of choice.

Register your interest.

Applications for both Criminology and Law degrees under the ACU Guarantee Program will open later this year. If you would like to be notified of updates and information about important dates and events of interest to the broad justice community, please Register your interest here.

2021-22 SAT Test Dates & Registration

College Board has recently opened SAT registration for the 2021-22 (US) academic year.

Test dates are as follows:

28 August 2021

2 October 2021

4 December 2021

12 March 2022

7 May 2022

4 June 2022

Registration can be found here and further information on the SAT test and the academic content which is included in the test can be found here.

Last year the US welcomed over one million international students to its colleges and universities. As part of the undergraduate application requirement for nearly all four year institutions, students need to submit a standardised test score, either the SAT (formerly known as the Scholastic Aptitude Test) or the American College Test, ACT, both of which are administered privately and outside of the school curriculum.

Receiving US institutions will have capabilities to interpret results from either test and there is no preference from one test over the other but you should always check with the universities to which you anticipate applying to best understand their testing policies.

Interested in Becoming a Pilot? Flight Virtual Reality Experience Schools Program

Flight Experience works with local universities & schools to conduct education and training programs for students.

Read on for examples of what Flight Experience can do for your classroom.

For the past few years, Flight Experience has been working with both universities and schools to develop educational and fun programs for their students. With courses focusing on the importance of situational awareness to the fundamentals of flight and aerodynamics, we have been able to use our state-of-the-art 737 simulator to educate and expose students to the wonders of aviation.

There are many aspects of commercial aviation which can be brought into other industries. The medical industry, among many others, have taken lessons and experience from the world of commercial pilots. Perhaps your school, university or even company could learn and develop these skills in our simulators.

ANU - Live science show by Dr Graham Walker

1 August

Join Dr Graham Walker for a special open-air live science experience, part lecture but mostly science show. Strap yourself in for a wild ride through a series of physics and chemistry as we blast, launch, laugh, ignite and explode our way through of series of astonishing experiments - including some to celebrate 75 years of our ANU. We'll 'rocketise' innocent soft drink bottles, launch teddy-bears with liquid nitrogen, create marshmallow-firing weapons of mass suction, create some jolly big (safe) explosions... and heaps more! It'll be pant-wettingly exciting!

This event will have three sessions; 11.30-12.15pm , 12.30-1.15pm, and 1.30-2.15pm, therefore please register soon to book a place.

UNSW - Zero Carbon World

27 July. 6.30pm

The age of zero carbon is coming, but the question remains: will it be fast enough to mitigate the worst impacts of the climate crisis?

While politics in Australia is still struggling to accept this much needed energy shift, there is cause for hope when we look to our fast-moving industry leaders, researchers and innovators.

The pace at which things are changing is genuinely jaw-dropping. There is the plummeting cost of solar power, which has happened decades ahead of previous estimates; a similar trajectory now forecast in the wind power and battery storage fields; and the view of hydrogen on the horizon. And in all these things, investors are voting with their money.

7 Ways to Make the Most of an Open Day

From campus tours to discovering university societies and clubs, here's how to have a successful Open Day experience!

If you're in Year 12 University Open Days are a great way to check out specific courses and campuses. Yep, even virtually

If you're in Year 12 and have 2022 on your mind, heading along to a university open day could equip you with the clarity needed to narrow down your pathway options.

Sitting in on lectures, chatting to course co-ordinators and meeting real-life undergraduates are some of the intro activities that generally go down, although like last year, loads will have virtual options too.

If you're in Year 12 and have 2021 on your mind, heading along to a University Open Day could equip you with the clarity needed to narrow down your pathway options.

Sitting in on lectures, chatting to course co-ordinators and meeting real-life undergraduates are some of the intro activities that generally go down, although this year, a lot of them are offering virtual university tours (or even a mix of the two).

Here we and answer your most common Open Day questions with both formats in mind – and yep, they're both just as comprehensive at giving you an insight into undergraduate pathway and extra-curricular opportunities.

Your free guide to a career in Optometry

Given that approximately 75% of vision loss is preventable or treatable, there is usually something that can be done to help your patients.

Given that work-related factors such as clinical challenges keep 78% of Australian optometrists happy and satisfied with their profession, you will most likely enjoy this profession if you like the challenge of putting together all the clues to reach a diagnosis and management plan in complex cases.

The scope of practice of optometrists is expanding. Students commencing an optometry degree in the future will be therapeutically endorsed when they graduate. This means that they will be better placed to assist some of their patients who present with eye inflammations, infections and injuries. It is expected that the number of people presenting to optometrists instead of emergency departments with eye injuries will increase

I.T. Lovers - GovHack

GovHack is an annual Open Data competition held across Australia. In 2021 it will be held on the weekend of 20th - 22nd August

In 46 hours teams create a project page, proof of concept and a video that tells the story of how government data can be reused.

Doors generally open at 7PM local time Friday 20th August (confirm with event times below)

Some venues will keep the doors open all 46 hours! However good ideas need sleep, so many will close late and reopen in the morning.

Attending a GovHack event

GovHack is a free event to attend for competitors.

GovHack events are recorded in video, audio and photographic form. By attending, you acknowledge and accept that you may be the subject of such recording and your image may be publicly displayed in connection to the event. We will seek to accommodate but cannot guarantee any specific wish not to be recorded or image displayed.

Node events may not have all the bells and whistles of an Official event. They are unique as they cater to our community groups with Youth, Makers or Special Interest themes.

What is the NCSS Challenge?

Starting on Monday 26th July, 2021

The NCSS Challenge is a programming competition open to all school students and teachers. The Grok Learning team have been running coding competitions like the challenge for over 12 years.

The NCSS Challenge is unlike any other programming competition. We'll teach you how to program as we go along, rather than expecting you to be an expert already. If you're a seasoned coder, we have something for you too – the problems range from relatively simple to mind-bendingly hard.

Starting on Monday 26th July, 2021 and running for about 5 weeks, we will release notes and problems containing the information you will need to complete the week's programming challenges.
