The Thornlie–Cockburn Line opens on Monday 9 June, and with it comes two new stations: Nicholson Road and Ranford Road.

By creating a connection between the Mandurah and Armadale lines, Perth's south-eastern suburbs now have a host of new transport options, including some adjustments to the bus network.

This means you may see some changes to your child's school commute. Use the Transperth JourneyPlanner to see if their journey to and from school will be affected after 9 June.
