Liturgical Jottings Kerygma

Generally speaking Kerygma is the proclamation of the good news of Jesus. Kerygma is the content and the activity and the task of the preacher. Writers express this concept in various ways: The Proclaimer, Jesus Christ, became the Proclaimed (R Bultmann), or the public proclamation of Christianity to the non-Christian world (C H Dodd) but also includes the teaching and training of the disciples and all believers. Kerygma is linked to the literary form of the Gospels. Mark presents Christ's words and works with mystery of the cross and the call to be disciples. Matthew by five great discourses revealing Christ's message for the community. Luke uses the journey motif to explain Jesus' death and resurrection and John by revealing Christ's glory by the seven signs and the events of crucifixion and resurrection. Today's readings highlight the role of kerygma: to proclaim and preach salvation for all.

Looking at the Readings

The three readings and the psalm all mention foreigners and pagans and the call from God to them and the mission of the church towards them. The Gospel of Matthew was written for a church community comprised of Jewish converts to Christianity. The Gospel included many old testament references with which they would be familiar. But the Gospel particularly emphasises Jesus contacts with the gentiles (non-Jews). First three women are named in the family tree of Jesus, Tamar and Rahab Canaanites, and Ruth a Moabite (Matt 1:3,5). Matthew was the only Gospel to relate the wise men from the East coming to worship the Infant Jesus. A Roman Centurion asks Jesus to cure his servant (Matt 8:5-13) and the Canaanite (Syro-Phoenician) woman her daughter in today's Gospel. Jesus' initial response creates some speculation: Is he harsh or reluctant or discriminant or even humorous? He is also prophetic, like Isaiah, and educative to his listeners. He acknowledges the woman's deep and persistent faith and is compassionate to her and her daughter.

St Paul reveals his passion in his ministry and energy in his language and is definite in his arguments: for he brings the good news of salvation to the pagans. The Good News is the mercy and love of God for all.

Prayer for the Week

Lord Jesus, may we have the courage to pray for our needs and the strength to accept your answer. In your name we pray. Amen.

The Quirky Calendar

Today the Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time falls on the twentieth of August. Coincidentally the last concurrence was the Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time on the twenty-first of August 2022. These concurrences have occurred 22 times this century!

Quote of the Day

It is important that it have two main goals. One is the development of the kerygma, the foundational experience of encounter with God through Christ's death and resurrection. The other is growth in fraternal love, community life and service.

Pope Francis' Apostolic Exhortation Christus vivit (March 2019)

On the Lighter Side

Joseph Byrne's "Dictionary of Unusual, Obscure and Preposterous Words" simply defines Kerygma as Christian preaching. Above the entry is keraunophobia: abnormal fear of thunder and lightning and kerdomeletia: excessive attention to material wealth. The last two words are not in my spellchecker!

St Mel's Parish Is...

"A welcoming and caring community that helps all people grow stronger in our Catholic Faith."

REFLECTION FROM FR PETER

Today's gospel is about crossing boundaries into new territories that is not just geographical but also a venture into differences of culture, and religion. Jesus finds himself in 'pagan' territory, is confronted by a Canaanite woman, a descendant of one of the ancient enemies of Israel. She is revealed as a mother whose own daughter is in dire need of help. No husband or father is mentioned. We gather from this she is devoted to her daughter, and at the end of her tether.

Jesus' response to her is one of silence. Maybe Jesus is coming to terms with his own identity, crossing his own border, yet acknowledges the woman and her faith. For all the differences revealed in this story, Jesus' reveals his humanity, suggesting his own mission is expanded by the presence of the Canaanite woman. This might reveal something of today's meaning of people and their community... Are they part of us? If not, why then associate with them?

Being people of faith and life one of the great understandings this gospel brings is a mindset to being inclusive. Our Church is one where we keep hearing of the call to reach out. It's like Paul striving to resolve the differences between Jews and Gentiles in his community. Both groups have a history of disobedience, yet it God's greater mercy being there for all.

This might call us to see... What groups find themselves being excluded from Church life? or how might we at St Mel's live the radical hospitality of God's love in our time?

SANDHURST PRIESTS DAYS OF INSERVICE This year we gather at Cadel on the Murray at Moama, from Monday evening September 4th to Thursday 7th. These are important days for our wellbeing and learning and being with each other in our ministry.

GREATER SHEPPARTON WINTER NIGHT SHELTER (GSWNS)

"Where two or three are gathered, I am there among them." (Matt 18:20)

St Mel's group has been blessed with so many volunteers, including Wes from the South Shepparton Community Church, in providing meals and company down at the Lake. We first met Wes when our Churches combined to provide overnight shelter in 2021-22, even when he experienced difficult circumstances. During the 2022 winter the various Church groups realised there wasn't that need, so we changed to providing hot meals each night during winter. This project has been most beneficial to all concerned.

THANK YOU FROM MONSIGNOR PETER JOHN JEFFREY It was very moving for me to receive cards, messages, and gifts on the occasion of my 60th anniversary of ordination. I was humbled, but delighted to have Arch Bishop Peter Loy Chong as main celebrant at the Jubilee Mass. To have Bishop Steve Lowe of Auckland, Bishop Les Tomlinson, and Bishop Shane Mackinlay as concelebrants reminded me of my times as Rector in Melbourne, Fiji, and New Zealand. I was thrilled to have so many friends and parishioners at the Mass at St Brendan's and afterwards at the celebration dinner at the GV Hotel. Thank you very much for the letters and keep praying for one and other.

READINGS FOR NEXT SUNDAY AUGUST 27th 2023

First Reading

A reading from the prophet Isaiah

I place the key of the House of David upon his shoulder.

Thus says the Lord of hosts to Shebna, the master of the palace: I dismiss you from your office, I remove you from your post, and the same day I call on my servant Eliakim son of Hilkiah.

I invest him with your robe, gird him with your sash, entrust him with your authority; and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the House of Judah.

I place the key of the House of David on his shoulder; should he open, no one shall close, should he close, no one shall open. I drive him like a peg into a firm place; he will become a throne of glory for his father's house.

The Word of the Lord

Responsorial Psalm - Lord, your love is eternal; do not forsake the work of your hands.

Second Reading

A reading from the letter of St Paul to the Romans

From him, through him, and in him are all things.

How rich are the depths of God – how deep his wisdom and knowledge – and how impossible to penetrate his motives or understand his methods! Who could ever know the mind of the Lord? Who could ever be his counsellor? Who could ever give him anything or lend him anything? All that exists comes from him; all is by him and for him. To him be glory for ever! Amen.
