

MEET THE NGARRI NGARRI TEAM

Ngarri is a Bangerang word meaning “Teaching” and a Yorta Yorta word meaning “Knowledge.” Ngarri Ngarri is also the name of the Koorie Artwork featured at the GSSC entrance representing the past, present, and future of education in this region. The Koorie Educator Team felt it was a fitting name for them as a group; acknowledging their role in supporting Koorie students to understand the importance of education and their ties to our rich cultural history.

L-R: Rihana Grace, Tamekah Atkinson, Lena Button, Zari Hardie, Tahlia Cooper, Jessica Bamblett, Shadelle Hood

The Ngarri Ngarri team works with Koorie students, families, community, and the school to support:

- Active student participation
- Positive family engagement
- Proactive home/school partnerships
- A culturally safe learning environment
- Inclusive curriculum and teaching and learning practices

Education empowers our young people with skills and knowledge and creates greater opportunities for them to succeed.

“We want to work with families to reach deadly outcomes for our young people.”
