

All About Pandas

What it is?

Pandas are gigantic, they are part of the bear family and babies are called cubs. Pandas are half black and white.

What does it look like?

Panda's have a black and white body. They have sharp teeth and a fluffy body. Baby pandas are both pink and hairless. They have a white and black head with black fur around. They have a special bone on their wrist like a thumb.

What does a panda eat?

Pandas eat bamboo which has no nutrients and other leaves and sticks. They also eat grass, fruits, eggs and insects.

Where do pandas live?

Pandas live in the wild alone except when caring for their babies. Pandas live in South West China and in bamboo forests or trees.

Other interesting facts

Pandas can be 1.8 metres tall and baby pandas are pink and endangered. Some pandas are red.