Good Friday

After the supper, Jesus went to pray in a garden just outside the city. There he was captured and taken prisoner.

On the Friday morning, Jesus was put on trial and sentenced to death.

He was taken to Calvary, a small mountain on the other side of the city, to be crucified.

He was killed because he had been brave enough to speak against the powerful people.

He had been brave enough to touch and heal people who were called "unclean".

He had been brave enough to teach the poor about the Kingdom of God.
