A NEW VIOLIN
MADE BY MALCOLM ROWE
OF LOXTON, SOUTH AUSTRALIA,
IS BEING DONATED AS A PRIZE FOR
A VIOLINIST ENTERING THE 2015
ADELAIDE EISTEDDFOD

Competitors interested in this award are encouraged to enter as many sections as they are able to for the adjudicator. Following the competitions a short list of competitors will be compiled and interviews conducted.

More details about eligibility for this wonderful prize will be provided later. It is a full size violin valued at $5,500, and thus a unique opportunity to acquire a violin made by an experienced maker who has been creating fine violins, violas, cellos and acoustic guitars for some years. The Adelaide Eisteddfod Society is most fortunate to be able to offer this prize to a student.

ENTRIES ARE NOW OPEN

All entries will be via STARDOM, an online Eisteddfod Management System. Previously known as GENI (access can be still found via that internet link; it follows on from that system) GENI has been rebranded. Enter via the new link: www.stardom.com.au

Registration is not required for information only.
