

A great opportunity to work in a rapidly growing school in Senegal, West Africa.

Dakar Academy is seeking a Christian candidate for a leadership role in the Central Campus and the role includes managing the Boarding program. Ideally an applicant would have a strong pastoral and leadership background. Do you know of anyone who might be interested?

Dakar Academy is a rapidly growing school system of three schools. The boarding program is an exciting opportunity to be involved in caring for young people, most of whose parents are involved in missions work in Africa and other countries. The website is <https://www.dakar-academy.org/>.

Senegal is considered a model of stability in West Africa (occasional unrest around election time) and the capital Dakar is one of the fastest growing cities in the world. It has the ocean on three sides and has a rich history. It is a vibrant, interesting place to live.

Anyone interested can apply directly to the Interim Superintendent (Elena Toombs) elena.toombs@dakar-academy.org, or to the HR department hr.manager@dakar-academy.org .

We have visited the school and are also happy to answer questions, share photographs etc. We are also happy to provide training and support.
