

Yalada! (Thank You!)

On Monday 2nd March, the students of St Brendan's had the opportunity to share in very special and insightful sessions led by Roger and Vince of Culture Connect. The sessions introduced the concepts and importance of being aware of the diverse range of languages and differences between Indigenous cultures and how to show diversity and respect as being a part of the broader global community.

The students then took some of the findings from these discussions and completed various pieces of works in their learning zones. We are so proud to showcase some of their efforts.

Vince taught us that in his tribe, the way to say thank you we say 'yalada'. We want to say a huge 'yalada' to Roger and Vince for sharing their passion about the beautiful country that we live in, Australia. These men were insightful and entertaining in their delivery of their knowledge of all things Indigenous culture.

We also wish to acknowledge and say 'yalada' to Mrs Riddell and our newly appointed Indigenous Leaders within the school; Anni, Amelia, Jack and Rhiley.
