

Grandparents

raising grandchildren

Support Group

As a grandparent going back to full-time parenting – regardless of the child's age, you are in a situation you may not have expected to be in at this stage of your life come to meet and join others in our community who are also doing this. You are not alone! There is support; there is help; there is a broad community to be with you and your family as you grow together.

The meetings are an opportunity for you to:

- discuss the joys and challenges of parenting grandchildren
- share ideas and resources
- hear other stories and experiences
- get to know others who are in a similar situation to you

The grandparent group would offer you understanding, friendship and shared knowledge and experiences.

It is important that confidentiality be maintained within the group.

The group will next meet for:

Morning tea

Wednesday 29th June 2022
