STUDENT SHOUTOUT

KAITLYN CAN, CAN YOU?

This edition the Student Chronicles have been lucky enough to snag an interview with Year 11 student, Kaitlyn Kos for our Student Shoutout section!

Aside from her sporting, leadership and academic achievements, Kaitlyn pushes herself to participate in the iCan challenge every year - completing two iCan's, with a third upcoming next year. Hear her thoughts below.

What does Kaitlyn think the most rewarding part of participating in the iCan is?

"The most rewarding part is knowing you have been apart of raising money and helping create change for an amazing cause. Once crossing that finish line, it feels so rewarding and an amazing achievement."

So, whats the most difficult part of the walk and how does she overcome it?

"The most difficult part about completing the walk is definitely being able to overcome the mental part that is telling you to stop, or that you are in too much pain. To overcome this you just have to keep telling yourself that you can do it and really push away the voice that is telling you to stop. Encouraging each other also really helps you push yourself."

What tips does she have for people doing the 50km next year?

"When completing the ican challenge, make sure you have the right socks, and bring two pairs! Keep yourself distracted. When you are walking its good to keep your mind busy, talking to others, listen to a podcast, even making little games with others!"

POP CULTURE & EXTRAS

ARE YOU UP TO DATE?

WILL TAYLOR AND CHARLI BE ABLE TO SHAKE IT OFF?

Taylor Swift and Charli XCX... two popstars who were once friends, with Charli featuring on multiple of Taylor's tours including in 2015 on the 1989 World Tour, and later on the 2018 Reputation Stadium Tour, have recently faced some friction.

In light of Charli's 2024 viral album "Brat." Some potential tension has come to surface following Swift's brief relationship with Matty Healy from The 1975. Charli's song "Sympathy is a Knife" features lyrics that fans speculate are related to Taylor. To add fuel to fire, this year with Taylor's new album "The Life of a Showgirl", Swift supposedly claps back.

Through lines from her song "Actually Romantic," the fanbases have been at war, arguing about who is the true 'mean girl'. However, XCX has released a response, stating that "people are gonna think what they want to think", not clarifying the true nature of the situation, but addressing fans' theories and speculations. So, what is truly happening between these long lost besties, and will their friendship be revived?

WHAT'S HEIDI KLUM HIDING?

STUDY TIPS:

If you struggle to focus or just want some tips, here are some things you can do to make your revision a little easier:

Try teaching somebody else, take breaks, give yourself rewards and make sure you have a dedicated study space that is clean and organized.

If you are finding it difficult to get started then you could:

Make a to-do list / study schedule, set goals and break your work into chunks.

We all know Halloween is approaching, and if anyone is the queen of Halloween it is Heidi Klum with her CRAZY costumes, from a literal worm to a 90 year old lady (to bite back at those calling her old, as revealed on the 'Call Her Daddy' podcast.) What will she be this year? Lore accurate demagorgan? Baby Yoda? Tune in for the grand reveal on none other than the 31st of October...

LAST MINUTE HALLOWEEN COSTUMES

In case you missed it, today is October 31 - and for some that means its time to be spooky. But what's that? You've got no costume and the clocks ticking. Not to worry, we've got some suggestions:

- Ghost (grab an old white sheet, cut out eye holes, and you're good to go)
- Witch (black clothes, a broom, and a paper cone hat, easy)
- Zombie (rip up an old shirt, add some pale face paint, and walk like you haven't slept in years)
- Black Cat (black clothes, paper ears on a headband, and eyeliner whiskers)
- Pumpkin (orange T-shirt, draw a jack-o'-lantern face, and wear green accessories)

If your still stuck, have a look at this YouTube video and get crafting!
