➤ KEY DATES FOR APPLYING TO UNIVERSITY IN AUSTRALIA

It doesn't matter which state you live in or where you complete your Year 12 studies, you can apply to any course at any university in Australia, if you meet the eligibility criteria specific to that course and university.

So, if you're planning on continuing your education after you leave Year 12, you're going to have to choose what course you would like to do and which universities you would most like to study at. If you haven't already decided on your preferences, then it's time to get your skates on and get organised.

NEW SOUTH WALES & AUSTRALIAN CAPITAL TERRITORY

UAC processes applications for courses offered at participating universities and higher education providers in NSW & the ACT (applications to the Australian Maritime College courses, including the Tasmania locations, apply through UAC). All the information you'll need to know about courses, universities, applying to a University in NSW & the ACT and more, can be found at: <https://www.uac.edu.au/>

Applications: Applications for courses starting in 2019 are open at UAC now.

You should aim to complete your application to UAC by the 28th September 2018 to be eligible for early bird offers. Fees for applications submitted by Year 12's before this date are $70.

The absolute last date you can apply and still be considered for the first main round of offers is by the 19th November 2018 to be included in the first round of offers in December (processing fees of $200 will apply to all applications received after the 28th September).

Preferences: You can choose up to FIVE preferences to list on your application. Preferences are the courses you would like to apply for. Listing five preferences maximises your chances of getting an offer.

When choosing your preferences, it's a good idea to list the ones you really want first, the ones that are more realistic next, and a safe option. That way you'll ensure that you get at least one offer at the end of each round.

ATAR results will be issued / available to Year 12 students in NSW & ACT on the 14th December 2018.

Last date to change preferences: Once you've received your ATAR, you may have done better than you expected, you might not have done as well as anticipated, or you may just have had a change of heart about which course to study or the University you would like to go to.

If that's the case, you can still change your preferences after receiving your ATAR. You'll have to make sure that you change your preferences by midnight on the 16th December 2018, after that you won't be able to alter your application before the first round of December offers.

Offers: Once you've submitted your final preferences and the cut-off window has passed, offer notifications for the first round will be sent on the 20th December 2018.

QUEENSLAND

QTAC (Queensland Tertiary Admissions Centre) are the centralised applications service for all publicly funded Queensland Universities. All the information you'll need to know about courses, universities, applying to a University in Queensland and more, can be found at: <https://www.qtac.edu.au/>

Applications: You can lodge your application to QTAC right now (applications were opened on 2nd August 2018).

You should aim to complete your application to QTAC before the 7th December 2018. Bear in mind the earlier you get your application in, the earlier you'll be considered for an offer. But if for some reason you're falling behind with your application, the absolute last date you can apply and still be considered for the first main round of offers is the 14th December 2018.

Preferences: You can choose up to SIX preferences to list on your application. Preferences are the courses you would like to apply for. Listing six preferences maximises your chances of getting an offer.

When choosing your preferences, it's a good idea to list the ones you really want first, the ones that are more realistic next, and a couple of safe options. That way you'll ensure that you get at least one offer at the end of each round.

OP Results: QCAA will publish final Year 12 results and OPs in student learning accounts on the Student Connect website on the 15th December 2018.

Last date to change preferences: Once you've received your OP results, you may have done better than you expected, you might not have done as well as anticipated, or you may just have had a change of heart about which course to study or the University you would like to go to.

If that's the case, you can still change your preferences after receiving your OP result. You'll have to make sure that you change your preferences by 4.30pm on the 8th January 2019, after that you won't be able to alter your application before the first round of offers.

Offers: Once you've submitted your final preferences and the cut-off window has passed, you can expect to start receiving offer notifications from the 16th January 2019.

VICTORIA

VTAC (Victorian Tertiary Admissions Centre) are the centralised applications service for all publicly funded Victorian Universities. All the information you'll need to know about courses, universities, applying to a University in Victoria and more, can be found at: <http://www.vtac.edu.au/>

Applications: You can lodge your application to VTAC right now (applications opened on the 6th August 2018).

You should aim to complete your application to VTAC before the 27th September 2018. Bear in mind the earlier you get your application in, the earlier you'll be considered for an offer. The fee for lodging an application by that date will be $36.00.

If for some reason you're falling behind with your application, according to the VTAC website, you can still lodge by the 2nd November 2018 (the late processing fee then jumps up to $105). The absolute last date you can apply and still be considered for the first main round of offers is the 7th December 2018 (the processing fee then is $137). However, when we spoke to VTAC to confirm these dates, they advised us that the latest you should get your application in to ensure you make it into the main round of offers is by the 31st October 2018. We would strongly advise you take heed of the October cut-off date to avoid disappointment, alternatively contact VTAC directly yourself.

Other applications: Scholarship applications to VTAC close on 12th October 2018. SEAS applications to VTA close on 12th October 2018.

Preferences: You can choose up to EIGHT preferences to list on your application. Preferences are the courses you would like to apply for. Listing eight preferences maximises your chances of getting an offer.

When choosing your preferences, it's a good idea to list the ones you really want first, the ones that are more realistic next, and a couple of safe options. That way you'll ensure that you get at least one offer at the end of each round.

ATAR Score Results: VCAA will post final Year 12 results and ATARs from 7am on the 14th December 2018.

Last date to change preferences: Once you've received your ATAR, you may have done better than you expected, you might not have done as well as anticipated, or you may just have had a change of heart about which course to study or the University you would like to go to.

If that's the case, you can still change your preferences after receiving your ATAR. You'll have to make sure that you change your preferences between 10am and 4pm on the 4th January 2019, after that you won't be able to alter your application before the first round of offers.

Offers: Once you've submitted your final preferences and the cut-off window has passed, you can expect to start receiving offer notifications from the 16th January 2019.
