- Submitted on behalf of his Year 7 students, by Mr Julio Acebron

Music Festival (Year 7 student, anonymous)

The music festival was lively and wild filled with invigorating songs and cheerful people.

We heard jazzy tunes and funky beats that seemed to enliven as the crowd grew with dynamic sellers advertising their wares in a sophisticated manner. Whilst exploring around we came to an exuberant band that harmonized with each other to create an upbeat melody that the crowd found charming. The audience's enthusiasm seemed to energize the bands confidence and after their performance they were met with excellent applause.

Layla was a kind and loving person who loved to sing. She loved the freedom and the way she could make others joyful and cheerful. Layla had a charming smile and had the most positive enthusiasm. Her singing was Harmonizing and dynamic. Layla loved jazzy music, funky music and she most of all loved anything that was energizing and up-beat. When Layla sang, she was wild, exuberant and invigorating. Her excellence and how sophisticated she was made people admire her and just think of how interesting it was that one person could make thousands happier. So, they decided to do the same. Then the whole world would be full of happiness.

How Joyful is Freedom (Tiana Gouldson, 7Z)

One day I woke up feeling energized... it was Saturday morning and I felt an overwhelming sensation of sophisticated knowledge and enthusiasm. I thought of and enliven thought. I might be stuck in a cell, accused for someone else's doing but I know one last way to get out... to be free.

I must stay positive, this horrible, wild, invigorating cell! I knew it was going to be very interesting, but my dynamic knowledge of this funky place was harmonizing. I will have to dig exuberantly to get the job done...

"I made it" I yelled out cheerfully. I heard the upbeat, jazzy music from across the street. This is excellent, I feel alive. No more fear... Until a charming young watch guard saw me.
