

FRIENDSHIP

Special friends are worth more than gold,
They will always be there as years unfold.
Even though you fail sometimes,
They will lift you up at your darkest times.

When you laugh and when you cry,
When you smile and when you're shy,
true friends can't be set apart,
maybe in distance but never in heart.

Even when friends have a war,
They soon mend together more and more,
Getting into mischief can always be fun,
Especially playing in the burning sun.

Friends stick together like glue,
Made for each other like a thread and screw.
Best friends are like a four-leaf clover,
hard to find but lucky to have.