Apprenticeships & Traineeships

Brisbane City Council Apprenticeships

Brisbane City Council runs an apprenticeship program providing apprentices with skills, training and experience to graduate as a qualified tradesperson. The program includes on-the-job training (for your chosen trade), as well as training in leadership, communication, negotiation, resilience, career management and mental health and wellbeing.

They employ a diverse range of trade apprentices across Brisbane and within various industries, including Automotive, Construction and Horticulture. Click here for more information including:

- Benefits for Council apprentices
- Hear from Council apprentices
- Eligibility information
- How to apply

Council's bulk intake for apprenticeships is usually advertised in September each year. View their current vacancies and employment program opportunities on Council's careers page and stay connected by joining their talent community.

Manage your Apprenticeship or Traineeship

It is best to start an apprenticeship or traineeship with all the information needed to support your journey and come out with a nationally recognised qualification and skills set. The Queensland Department of Employment, Small Business and Training provides valuable information for employers, apprentices and trainees. Information for apprentices and trainees includes:

- Manage your apprenticeship or traineeship
- Probation
- Ongoing responsibilities
- Resolving issues
- Making changes
- Cancellation

Want to be an electrician?

Electro Group Training and Apprenticeships is a Group Training Company specialising in training people for the electrical industry. It employs and monitors the training of electrical apprentices. For more information, visit the Electro Group website (click on 'Apprenticeships'). While you are on the site, read about the attributes and skills required of an electrical apprentice. Also, do the self-assessment to see if you have the maths and science skills needed for the job.

Educational Access Scheme (EAS)

EAS can assist if you have faced challenging circumstances that have affected your most recent schooling or study experience. It supports you by levelling the playing field to give you a better chance to compete for tertiary study. All applicant information is treated with strict confidentiality and care. EAS can assist you if:

- You have qualifications that provide a QTAC selection rank. This includes completing senior secondary schooling (years 11 and 12) or other equivalent studies.
- You are applying for an institution or course that accepts EAS.
- You meet entry requirements even if you changed school subjects, as long as the new subjects align with the course requirements.
- You have missed school due to circumstances beyond your control, not including personal choice activities like sports, music, or cultural events.

If your EAS application is successful, you may receive adjustments to your QTAC selection rank. This can help you compete for tertiary study on a more equal basis. If you are eligible for the Financial Hardship category, you may also get financial assistance from institutions, such as scholarships or bursaries. Click here (scroll down) for more information and individual category cover sheets which need to be completed and uploaded into your QTAC application.

How are IB Diploma students considered for entry to tertiary courses in Australia?

Results from completed IB Diplomas are reported as an IB Score called the IBAS, on a whole number scale between 24 and 45. These IBAS are then converted into a national ATAR-like rank to allow IB students to be considered for tertiary places alongside their counterparts who have completed state curricula or other qualifications. This national ATAR-like value is known as the Combined Rank because it is a national conversion which combines results from across all states. This means that IB students can apply in any Australian state or territory with confidence about how their results compare to their peers who have completed state curricula and received an ATAR. Click here for more information and course consideration for entry to tertiary courses through QTAC.

Pros and cons of mid-year entry

Many tertiary courses have Semester 1 and Semester 2 entry. This means you can commence your course at the beginning of the year or mid-year. The following is a list of some of the advantages and disadvantages of applying mid-year.

Advantages

- You can have a longer break from study between finishing Year 12 and starting tertiary study halfway through the following year (like a mini Gap year).
- Mid-year entry allows you to apply again if you don't get a course for Semester 1.
- Starting mid-year gives you a chance to improve your skills by doing a study preparation course or short-lower level course during Semester 1.
- Starting mid-year does not necessarily mean you take longer to graduate as many courses offer catch-up options such as summer schools/Trimester 3 study options.

Disadvantages

- Not all courses offer mid-year entry.
- ATAR/tertiary rank minimum thresholds can be more competitive mid-year because there are usually fewer places available.

- You could regret not starting your study earlier when you see your friends starting their courses in Semester 1.
- You might get out of the study habit.
- You could become bored and end up wasting your time.

A sensible strategy is to apply for Semester 1 courses and defer your study. Also, you could contact the admissions office of the institution to find out the process to defer for six months instead of a year, which is the usual deferment period.

QTAC website has the most up to date course information

It is important to remember that the 2025 QTAC course guide was accurate on the day of publishing. Some courses have been approved since publication and/or were not included in the book at time of publication. The QTAC and university websites are the most accurate source of course information so check, check and double check your facts!

To get your ATAR you HAVE TO register with QTAC

If you are in Year 12 and are ATAR eligible, to receive your ATAR in December, you must register now on the ATAR Portal to have QTAC calculate your ATAR. Year 12 Queensland 2024 ATARs will be released into the portal from 8am - 9am on Friday 13 December. If you are planning on applying for courses in 2025, you will also need to submit a separate QTAC application.

If you are wanting to apply interstate, you will also be required to register on the ATAR portal providing QTAC with the necessary consent to share your ATAR with interstate Tertiary Admissions Centres. Before registering on the portal, you will need the following information:

- Full name (as shown on QCAA Learning Account/official school enrolment)
- Date of Birth (DD, MM, YYYY)
- LUI number
- Personal email address

Click here to register to receive your ATAR.

Student Portal - Year 12 registration

The Student Portal delivers all your learning information and final results in one place. You can check your personal details, access your learning account, get your final Year 12 results and more. You need to register! You will need an email address (NOT your school email) and your LUI number. The Student Portal gives you secure access to your personal learning information. The first stage includes three features:

- My Details — is where you'll see your personal details and you can update your email address and/or mobile phone number
- My Learning Account — is where you'll find your subject and course enrolments and get your final results at the end of Year 12. Results will be displayed as they become available including any VET qualifications and QCE recognised studies once they are entered by the learning provider.
- My Online Learning — is where you can complete the QCAA academic integrity course and print a certificate of completion.

Click here to see the Student Portal applications explained for further details.

What qualifications will I get at the end of Year 12?

On 13 December 2024, you will be able to log into your QCAA Student Portal to see your final subject results located in your learning account. If eligible, you will be issued with a senior education profile. Included in this profile could be:

- Senior Statement - this is a transcript of your learning account. The Senior Statement shows all QCE contributing studies and the results achieved that may contribute to the award of a Queensland Certificate of Education. If you receive a Senior Statement, then you have satisfied the completion requirements for Year 12 in Queensland.
- Queensland Certificate of Education \(QCE\) - The QCE is Queensland's senior school qualification and is awarded to eligible students, usually at the end of Year 12.
- Queensland Certificate of Individual Achievement \(QCIA\) - The Queensland Certificate of Individual Achievement (QCIA) recognises the achievements of students who are on individualised learning programs.

Study Skills and Wellbeing

How to retain information

Ebbinghaus was a German psychologist who studied memory. He discovered the forgetting curve which looks at the decline of memory retention. It showed that forgetting occurs most rapidly shortly after you stop learning a subject. The greatest loss is within a few hours. The speed you forget gradually slows down as time goes on. Visit The Ebbinghaus Forgetting Curve – And How To Overcome It for more information about the forgetting curve. Two strategies for memory retention are:

- Better memory representation (e.g. mnemonic techniques) – Coming up with a song is a commonly used mnemonic technique. An example is how children remember their ABCs. Other types include names, expressions, models, odes, note organisation, images, connections and spellings. An example of using a name as a mnemonic is Roy G Biv (red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, violet) to remember the colours of the rainbow.
- Repetition based on active recall (especially spaced repetition) – When learning new information, spacing out revision sessions over time makes items easier to remember. It is more effective to do your revision over many weeks, rather than the night before the exam. Plan your review of material to start the first day after it is acquired, a second time about a week after that and finally a few weeks later. This is what you do in the revision part of homework. Active recall means that you test yourself following each revision session.

Prerequisites and Assumed Knowledge

To enable you to successfully complete the first year of some degrees, it is assumed that through your senior secondary school studies, or equivalent, you will have achieved a minimum level of knowledge in certain subjects. Most Griffith degrees require you to meet an English subject prerequisite for admission. Assumed knowledge is not assessable, however, some degrees recommend you have foundational knowledge in one or more of the following Queensland Year 12 General subjects: General Mathematics, Mathematical Methods, Specialist Mathematics, Biology, Chemistry, Physics or Psychology. Click here to find out more about:

Priority places for rural students in Dentistry

If you have lived in a regional or remote area for at least five consecutive years, you may be eligible for a priority place in dentistry at Griffith. These priority places are set aside to help support and develop the next generation of dentists, familiar with the unique challenges facing rural communities. Applications close 30 September 2024 for Trimester 1 2025 admission. Click here for more information.

Vertical Double Degrees

Griffith has a new suite of vertical double degree programs where you complete a packaged bachelor and master degree in as little as four years. The advantages of this pathway are:

- Attractive to higher achieving students
- Develop advanced, specialised knowledge
- Streamlines options and saves time
- Provides competitive employment opportunities
- Commonwealth Supported places for Masters degree

Click here for more information.

Why choose a Commerce degree?

So why should you consider a Commerce or Business degree:

- A Bachelor of Commerce allows you to become a specialist in your chosen field of accounting, economics or finance by focusing solely on these areas
- A Bachelor of Business provides a broader introduction to the world of business. You don't choose a major until your second year
- A Bachelor of Business gives you 20 majors, including double majors, to choose from eg: pair Majors in Marketing and Economics or International Business and Accounting

The University of Queensland

Admission schemes and adjustment factors/points

Admission schemes can boost your selection rank and improve your chances of getting into your preferred program. You may be eligible for UQ's admission schemes based on:

- your background and personal circumstances
- where you live
- the subjects you studied at school.

Many of the admission schemes use 'adjustments' to boost your selection rank. If you're eligible for adjustments, your entry score/ATAR will be converted to a selection rank and any adjustments will be added onto this rank. Each adjustment is equivalent to 1 rank. You can receive a maximum of 5 adjustments across all the following schemes.

- School Opportunity Scheme - Depending on the school you attend, you may be eligible for up to 4 rank adjustments.
- Rural Access Scheme - If you've lived in a rural area in Australia, you may be eligible to receive 2 adjustments towards your selection rank for all undergraduate programs.
- UQ Link Program - If you've experienced significant financial disadvantage, you may be eligible to receive 5 adjustments towards your selection rank and a $3000 scholarship.
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Admission Pathway - If you're an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person, you may be eligible for support to help you get into your preferred UQ program.
- Undergraduate Law Admission Scheme - If you're from an educationally disadvantaged or culturally diverse background, you may be eligible for support to help you get into our undergraduate law programs.
- Subject Incentive Scheme - If you're a Year 12 student studying certain subjects at school, you may be eligible for up to 5 adjustments towards your selection rank.
- Educational Access Scheme - QTAC's Educational Access Scheme can provide additional support if you've experienced difficult personal circumstances that have negatively affected your most recent studies.

Holiday language courses

Queensland state school students can join us online across 5 days in the September holidays to learn Japanese or Korean. Click here for more information and to register.

Pathways to Law at UQ

If you don't think you'll get the ATAR required to study law at UQ, you may be eligible for other pathway options. Click here to read their flyer, Pathways to law at UQ for more information.

Rural Access Scheme

If you've lived in a rural or remote area of Australia, UQ's Rural Access Scheme may help boost your selection rank for entry into many of their programs. Rural and remote areas often have less access to educational opportunities, resources and health services compared to cities and larger towns. To help address these challenges, you could be eligible for the sub-quota as a:

- Provisional Entry applicant (school leavers), you'll have 2 adjustments added to your selection rank
- Direct Entry applicant (university graduates), you'll have 2 adjustments added to your overall GAMSAT score.

You still need to meet all entry requirements for each program you apply for. If you're applying for the Doctor of Medicine Provisional Entry pathway, you must submit your Rural Access Scheme cover sheet and supporting documentation by 30 September. You will then also be considered for the Rural Background Sub-quota. Click here for more information.
