

Everybody should have a pet!

Everybody should have a pet because you will be really fit by playing with a pet.

The first reason that everybody should have a pet is that they will keep you company. Also they will love you and all ways want to play with you. Pets will get so happy to see you when you get home.

The second reason why everybody should have a pet is that you will never be bored if you have a pet. Pets are really crazy but they do make you laugh. You can teach them tricks like how to fetch a ball, hand shake and how to sit.

The third reason why everybody should have a pet because they are fun and cute. You do have to look after them but it will all ways be fun. You have to feed them but they will make it fun for you.

That's why everybody should have a pet because you will all ways have fun with a pet.