Attitude V Experience - which is more valuable?

Looking for a job while at school or after school can be hard work especially when you are needing to record your 'experience' in your resume. It can even turn you off applying. Having a good attitude and a willingness to learn can make you more attractive to employers than someone who has plenty of experience but comes across as bored, jaded or disinterested. Seek has put together a short article about how a good attitude can matter more than experience. They talk about:

- Most employers choose passion over experience
- Your positive attitude can transform a workplace
- Employers are looking for people who add to the culture
- How to build a positive attitude
- How to demonstrate a great attitude to employers

How should I factor AI into my decision about what to study after school?

The Conversation had an article talking about how many young adults may be fretting about how to factor AI into their decision about what to study after school. Don't panic, they unpack what AI means for the future careers of today's school leavers as well as:

- Tech skills in demand – but that's not the whole story
- Comprehension, communication and articulation
- Critical thinking is crucial
- So, what's a school-leaver to do?

Soft skilling for the future

Did you know soft skill-focused jobs will account for two-thirds of all jobs by 2030? Although a lot about the future is uncertain now, we know that the demand for soft skills is predicted to grow. For example, studies in Australia show that 63% of businesses reported that young people coming into work lack essential soft skills. If you want to stand out in the job market, get working on your soft skills. To keep up with the ever-changing professional environment, keep reading all about the soft skills that will help you flourish in any job. Click here to read more about:

Unsure what to study next year?

The Guardian reports that as Year 12 students begin Term 3, they will be thinking increasingly about what to do next year. Throughout August, many universities have open days as students investigate different courses and options for study. This is a significant time for young people as they navigate study pressures with decisions about what to do beyond school. If you are still making up your mind (and there is still plenty of time!), you might like to read about the following 6 things:

1. There are lots of options
2. High school subjects are not quite the same as uni
3. Think about your uni as well as your course
4. Don't forget there are options with how you study
5. The ATAR is not everything
6. It's OK to change your mind

ATAR FAQs

QTAC are the organisation that calculates Year 12 ATARs at the end of the year. Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority send your final results to QTAC who then calculate your ATAR. Click here (scroll down) to find answers to the following questions:

1. Who needs to register in the AtAR Portal?
2. How can I receive/view my ATAR?
3. I'm applying interstate, do I need to sign up?
4. How can I get my ATAR if I am unable to register on the QTAC ATAR Portal?
5. Am I still eligible for an ATAR if I don't register on the QTAC ATAR Portal?
6. What do I need to know about being 'ATAR ineligible'?
7. Will my school be able to see my ATAR?
8. Does a school need to register their students to have an ATAR issued?
9. Where can I find my QCE results? They are not in the ATAR Portal
10. I am completing Year 12 in 2024 and I have an ATAR account from 2023. Do I need to register for a new account in 2024?

Applying for Educational Access Scheme (EAS)

The Educational Access Scheme (EAS) can help you if you have experienced circumstances that have negatively affected your most recent studies. If you are assessed as eligible for an adjustment to your ATAR or QTAC selection rank under EAS, it will be combined with other adjustments you may be eligible for. Check with the institution/s you are interested in for the maximum adjustments allowable. If you are eligible for the Financial Hardship category, you may also get financial assistance from institutions, such as scholarships or bursaries. This category applies to your current and recent personal and/or family financial circumstances.

You apply for EAS when you are applying for tertiary study through QTAC. You must complete a cover sheet for each category that you feel you are eligible for and provide written evidence to support your application. EAS will not be able to compensate you for things such as not completing secondary school, changing school subjects by choice or missed time from school for activities that are a personal choice (for example, sport, musical, holidays or cultural activities) etc. The EAS eligibility categories are:

- Financial Hardship
- Home Environment and Responsibilities
- English Language Difficulty
- Personal Illness or Disability
- School Environment

If you nominate to apply to EAS and DO NOT go ahead with your application, you MUST enter your application and untick the EAS option otherwise QTAC will think your application is incomplete. It is suggested that you only tick to apply for EAS, once you have gathered all the necessary documentation.

Be organised before applying to QTAC

QTAC's online application for tertiary courses commencing in Semester One 2024 is now open. This doesn't mean you must apply immediately! You need to do some preparation before you are ready to apply.

- Know your LUI number. You will need this as part of your application so QTAC can access your results when they are released by the Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) in December
- Check your QCAA student learning account to see if all your qualifications/study program/s are there, especially if you have completed courses outside of school that are recognised by the QCAA
- The application will ask if you want to authorise someone to represent you if you are unavailable to respond to a course offer or you want more information from QTAC about your application. Most students nominate one of their parents or guardians. You will need their full name, date of birth (including year of birth) and contact details.
- Are you going to apply for QTAC's Educational Access Scheme (EAS)? If so, which category or categories are you going to apply under? Speak to your Guidance Officer or School Counsellor for assistance.
- How are you going to pay the $65 application fee? By credit card (yours or your parent's/guardians), BPay or Direct debit/credit card/money order at the QTAC office? Your application will only be activated once QTAC receives the funds in their bank account. If you have trouble paying the $65, see your Guidance Officer or School Counsellor.
- Select and order your course preferences. This means you need to research courses and make some decisions about what you want to apply for.
- Check closing dates for specific courses on Page 19 and 20 of your QTAC Guide.
- Be aware of the closing dates for 2025 applications, preference changes and document submission (Page 19 QTAC Guide).

Key Diary Dates in 2024/2025

Things are starting to ramp up for Year 12 students and it is easy to miss key dates. Below is a list of some key dates that you should check and put in your diary so that you don't miss out on key opportunities. You will also need to check out closing dates for early entry programs and scholarship applications. You can find these on the individual TAFE and university websites.

Make use of your 2025 Guide Year 12!

Year 12 students should have received their 2025 QTAC Guide or you can get the Guide online. This book is full of important information to assist you in choosing your tertiary pathway for 2025. You will find key information on Applying to QTAC on pages 1 -25. IT IS ESSENTIAL THAT YOU CHECK ALL YOUR PREFERENCES ON THE QTAC WEBSITE as the guide was only accurate as of the date of publishing. This is particularly relevant for those wanting to apply for Teaching/Education.

Ordering your preferences

You can apply for up to six courses through your QTAC application. The order in which you place the courses is very important. QTAC advises the following plan (like a 'recipe') to help you make sound decisions.

- Preferences 1 and 2: Desired courses - the courses you most want to study even if you are not sure you will get an offer.
- Preferences 3 and 4: Back-up courses – less competitive courses or courses at other institutions that you are prepared to study if you don't get your higher preferences. They could be used to upgrade to your higher preference courses in the future.

- Preferences 5 and 6: Admission Pathway courses - courses that are not competitive and will help you upgrade to your higher preference courses in the future. These are safety net courses.

When processing your application, the QTAC computer starts with your preference 1 course. If you are eligible for this course (i.e. you meet all the entry requirements and are at or above that year's entry threshold/tertiary rank/ATAR), you will be offered this course and your other preferences will not be considered.

If you are not eligible for your preference 1 course, QTAC will, in turn, then look at your competitiveness for your second preference and so on until it finds a course you are eligible for or it exhausts your list of preferences. If that happens, you won't receive an offer. If you follow the plan (the recipe), you will receive an offer. It may not be for your preference 1 but it will be a foot-in-the-door to upgrading, hopefully in one year, to the course you want. You will find more information here (with video) or in your QTAC Guide on Page 10 and on their website.

You can change preferences after you submit your application. Only press 'Save' after you make all the changes you want. This is then considered one change session. The first three (3) change of preference sessions are free. Subsequent change sessions cost $65. Don't change your preferences impulsively. Think carefully about them. See your school Guidance Officer/Counsellor if you need assistance.

QTAC Remind Me

Keep up to date with what's happening at QTAC by registering with QTAC Remind Me. By registering, you will get emails about:

- Reminders for application submission, and prompts to complete application paperwork
- ATAR Portal sign up and ATAR release
- Resources on how to order or change preferences, and where to get more information
- Check-ins to see if you're stuck or need assistance along the way
- Support if you don't get the Year 12 results or ATAR you had hoped for, or are not made an offer during the coming offer rounds
- A survey via email, once you let us know you no longer need Remind Me

Click here for more information and to register.

Register to get your ATAR result

If you are a Year 12 student and you want your ATAR calculated, you must register with QTAC. ATARs will be released on 13 December 2024. To register, you must have the following personal details ready:

- Full name (as displayed in your QCAA learning account/school enrolment - no nick names or shortened names)
- Date of birth
- LUI number - your school will provide you with your LUI
- Personal email address (do not use school email)

Understanding Minimum selection thresholds when ordering course preferences

Entry to many courses is competitive – the number of places available in the course may be fewer than the number of people applying for entry to the course.

Places for eligible applicants to a course are allocated by eligibility (prerequisites) and then in order of merit (the applicant's entry score ATAR or Rank) until the places are filled. When the last place in the course is filled, the ATAR score and entry rank of the last applicant offered a place becomes the 'lowest selection threshold'. When researching your course options, it's best to base your preferencing decisions on the adjusted lowest 2024 Minimum Threshold or tertiary rank. These take into account adjustment factors that have been allocated to applicants' scores. The QTAC guide shows both the Adjusted and Unadjusted lowest ATAR/Selection rank so be sure you focus on the Adjusted threshold.

Double check Adjusted minimum ATAR/tertiary ranks on university websites as there are some inaccuracies in the QTAC book.

Study Skills and Wellbeing

Don't Quit - some words of encouragement

Don't quit when the tide is lowest, for it's just about to turn;

Don't quit over doubts and questions, for there's something you may learn;

Don't quit when the night is darkest, for it's just a while till dawn;

Don't quit when you've run the farthest, for the race is almost won;

Don't quit when the hill is steepest, for your goal is almost nigh (within your grasp);

Don't quit, for you're not a failure until you fail to try.

Study smarter, not harder

Let's be honest: study, even studying a subject you're in love with, isn't fun. That's doubly true when you're halfway through a subject and realise you don't actually understand it, or when you're overwhelmed by the due dates for several assignments that've all crept up at once. It may seem tempting to procrastinate or to burn the midnight oil, but there are far better solutions. Click here to read more about Deakin Uni's 7 tips (helpful for all students) to help you study smarter, not harder including:

1. Fake it 'til you make it
2. Treat it green, keep it keen

4. Rinse, repeat
5. Find your happy place

6. Embrace the dryness
7. Get with the century

Why is emotional intelligence important for students?

Some skills aren't taught in school, but that doesn't stop them from being important. Emotional intelligence (EI) can give you an edge in your academics now and set you up for success in your future career. But why is emotional intelligence important for students specifically? Adjustment factors applied automatically

Some students receive an offer to a course even though they have an ATAR below the published adjusted selection rank. Often this is because other factors have been taken into consideration in combination with their ATAR and their selection rank for that course has been adjusted (and is higher than their ATAR).

These adjustments are due to factors such as performance in Year 12 subjects, living or attending school in a certain area and applying for consideration through the Educational Access Scheme. Selection rank adjustments are applied differently from institution to institution and from course to course within the same institution. In Queensland we call it/them Adjustment Schemes. Visit each institution's website and/or visit QTAC here to find out more.

Important changes to prerequisites for Education from 2025

The non academic requirements for Teacher Entry (NARTE) often referred to as a Suitability Statement, is no longer a prerequisite for entry into a Bachelor of Education at any university from 2025 entry.

The Science prerequisite has been removed for all Education (Primary and Early Childhood) degrees as from 2025 entry.

From 2025 the admission requirements are as follows:

- Prerequisites:
 - General English, English as an Additional Language, Literature of English & Literature Extension (Units 3&4, C)
 - General Mathematics, Mathematical Methods or Specialist Mathematics (Units 3&4, C)
- Recommended:
 - Secondary Education: Senior studies in chosen teaching areas
 - Chemistry, Physics or Biology require the chosen area to be successfully completed at the senior level

Things I wish I knew before coming to university

Moataz Hamde shares with ABC's EveryDay the things she wishes she understood/knew about before going to uni. She says that her idea of what to expect from university life came in the form of trashy US college movies. She was gearing up for non-stop debauchery, but the reality was far different — a demanding workload, strict deadlines and the ultimate test of mental, emotional and physical strength. Click here to read more about her tips for managing and being successful at university including:

- Stress less, no-one cares what your school score was
- Make sure you're studying what you want to learn
- Keep an open mind
- Expand your circle
- Go out and get some real-world experience
- Study hard and work a little bit

Why do a double degree?

ACU have explained what a double degree is by describing it this way:

- Equivalent of two qualifications with only one extra year of study - 4 years full time study (as single degrees it would take 6 years to complete both)
- A competitive edge to :
 - Acquire a depth of understanding that cannot be obtained in a single degree
 - Be better equipped to work in multidisciplinary teams
 - Job applications stand out in the crowd
- Double degrees are also suited for students who are not clear on the pathway they wish to pursue.

All universities offer double degrees so check them out to see if they suit your current study thinking.

Senior Mathematics Study Days

Build your confidence, gain additional tips and skills and get that extra edge for your assessments and exams with UQ's Senior Maths Study Days. Their September session is designed for Year 12 students and delivered face to face and online. You will explore concepts in Mathematical Methods through exercises, lectures and workshops which include exam-style questions. The session provides an opportunity to enrich your mathematical understanding of senior mathematics curricula and prepare you for tertiary mathematics studies. Click here to find out more about the Year 12 Mathematical Methods day being held on 17 September from 1 - 4pm at the St Lucia campus or online including registration details.

Study at your own pace

Did you know that you can study full time or part-time by choosing how many subjects you study each semester? If you are thinking you want to work for a while and save some money or there are things going on in your life that you need to sort, you don't need to put off study all together. You can choose to study fewer subjects/courses each semester and can also fast-track your degree by studying during the summer semester (October to February). Read about USQ courses here.
