Happy World Teachers Day to all our teachers!

World Teachers Day

Today is World Teachers Day, and it was absolutely amazing to see all the wonderful contributions made to the morning tea we have thrown our teachers today to say thanks. From cookies to macaroons, cakes to slices, donuts to cupcakes, everything looked just incredible as we set it up for them. Thankyou to everyone who contributed something delicious, the staff were all very appreciative.

Cake Raffle

Thanks to the Lay family for this week's cake raffle prize!

We raised $26.50!

Secondhand uniforms

Thankyou to everyone who has already donated secondhand uniforms for our stall. We will continue to accept donations next week, you can drop them off at Reception.

Our secondhand uniform stall will be open to our 2024 Foundation families next Wednesday November 1. If anyone is interested in purchasing secondhand uniforms at this time as well, please let me know so we can consider opening the stall to the school on Thursday 2 November.

Mango Forms

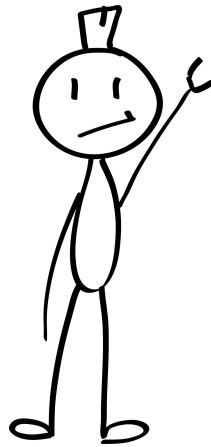

Mango orders have now closed, thanks to everyone who has placed their order. I will confirm our delivery date when I get confirmation from the organisers, we are expecting them in early December.

Secondhand Books

There are still a large number of secondhand books looking for a new home. If you can help us out by taking some for yourself, taking a box and dropping it off at a local op shop, or know of a charity or other organisation who would be interested, please pop by the old FK room or let me know. All books must go by November 10!
