

MUSIC HOUSE

Sean Thomas is an accomplished Australian musician, songwriter and music educator best known as guitarist and founding member of the acclaimed rock band Kisschasy. With a career spanning more than two decades, Sean has toured nationally and internationally, released multiple ARIA-charting albums, and performed at some of Australia's biggest festivals and venues. Today, Sean brings that same passion, creativity and real-world industry experience to Music House on the Mornington Peninsula. His approach to teaching goes beyond simply learning an instrument—he inspires students to develop confidence, creativity and a deep appreciation of music. Whether students are picking up a guitar for the first time, preparing for live performances, writing original songs or refining advanced techniques, Sean provides authentic mentorship shaped by years of professional experience in a relaxed, intuitive and encouraging way.

Proudly based in Balnarring on the Mornington Peninsula, Sean is committed to nurturing the region's next generation of musicians while creating a welcoming community where people of all ages can learn, grow and connect through music. Through Music House, his vision is to make high-quality music education accessible locally, while providing a learning experience that is explorative and meaningful.