

CELTIC KNOTS

Celtic knots are ancient patterns that have no beginning and no end. Many Celts, like many Jews, Gentiles and other people became Christians. Celtic art has some very good images to help us understand God and the Trinity. This Triquetra- as a Celtic knot- is a very good image for the Trinity. Three shapes are really one continuous shape representing God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit.

Follow the pattern with your finger.

Here are two other Celtic knots where other symbols have been included to enhance the triquetra knot of the Trinity.

I wonder if you could design your own Celtic knot that represents the Trinity... God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit. Three persons—one God.
