The story

On a warm summer morning, Harry, Ron and Hermione were boarding the hogwarts express. When they arrived, Harry noticed something weird about the black lake. After the sorting ceremony, the trio went upstairs to the empty common room and had a chat. “Did you hear something?” said Harry. “Yes I think so....” said Hermione. “It sounded like a spell or something” said Ron. So they went to the greenhouses. “The dark mark!” said Ron in a scared voice. “Voldemort’s back!” cried Harry. All of a sudden, Voldemort appeared. “EXPELLIARMES!” they both cried. They battled hard. Voldemort had been defeated forever.
