SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

Launched in 2014, the Award was renamed in 2015 in honour of RANZCOG staff member and award-winning author, Liam Davison and his wife Frankie, a secondary school teacher, in recognition of their shared passion for nurturing and encouraging young writers.

WHAT IS RANZCOG?

- The Royal Australian and New Zealand College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RANZCOG) is the leading body responsible for the training and education of doctors in obstetrics and gynaecology in Australia and New Zealand.
- RANZCOG is committed to the establishment and maintenance of the highest possible standards of practice in women's health and provides programs in training, accreditation and continuing professional development that are responsive to the evolving health care needs of women.
- RANZCOG supports research and advocacy for women's health by forging productive relationships with individuals, the community and professional organisations, both locally and internationally.

POSSIBLE TOPICS

- Obstetrics: ultrasound in antenatal care, caesarean delivery, complications in childbirth, postnatal depression.
- Gynaecology: contraception, sexually transmitted infections, fertility, incontinence.
- Cultural/Social: family structures, social norms, crime and punishment, Indigenous women's health, career choice and motherhood.
- Political: public vs private health care, women's health policies and legislation.
- Ethical/Legal: termination of pregnancy, contraception - treatment and availability, legal status of fetus, informed consent for minors, health care for women with special needs.
- Technological: access and use of technology in women's health, advances in technology, robotic surgery.
- Other: women's health and nutrition, the impact of the internet and online self-diagnosis, overseas surrogacy.

WRITING TIPS

You can use any style of writing that suits your topic.

This might be personal (eg diary, letters, interview), informative (eg essay, article), analytical (eg for & against), imaginative (eg diary, letters, narrative, interview), instructional (eg 'how-to'...), argumentative (eg opinion piece).

Great ideas can be let down by poor execution. Develop ideas thoroughly and organise your writing - ensure it has a clear structure and style.

- Be original in your topic!
- Note that opinion pieces need to present a well-balanced, critical discussion of the issue, not just one side.
- Check your spelling and grammar thoroughly. Proof read your submission yourself, then ask a friend, teacher or relative if they can read it through.
- Attribute your sources accurately; do not use material from websites, texts or other sources without stating where it came from. Articles will be checked using an online plagiarism checker.
