Kindness may look like giving each other turns in the playground, but it's more about being kind and sharing with other people, cheering up on someone if they are hurt, or helping someone if they are sad and if they have no one to play with. Well maybe you can help them and play with them, also you might not know that it can actually cheer up their day. Being kind can be really amazing, and if you see someone being mean to another do something or get a yard duty, don't be a bystander be a upstander!
