

An Amazing Meal!

The Whole World was enveloped in boredom, until the universe had stopped. The unknown smell had lingered through the stairs, of course i had to find out what it was!

Step by step, going down hearing my family's laughter had made me even more curious. ~~The~~ The scent had continued, seeing a french toast sitting on the plate calling my name. Brown crust shrouded the toast as my mouth had widely opened.

Mmm... i had exaggerated, as the toast dropped in my mouth, bite by bite and there it went! The toast was as brown as chocolate, my mum brought out some orange juice and it made my mind exploded. As orange as the sun drip by drip it had flooded in my mouth and the relish taste was unimaginable!

A family meal brought everyone with chatter, all of our smiles had grown so much. Talking about our lives was so helpful then we all had left for our daily ^{business} lives.

My mind was racing and my stomach growling as the anticipation developed.

Keep up the amazing learning,

I am so, so, so, so proud
